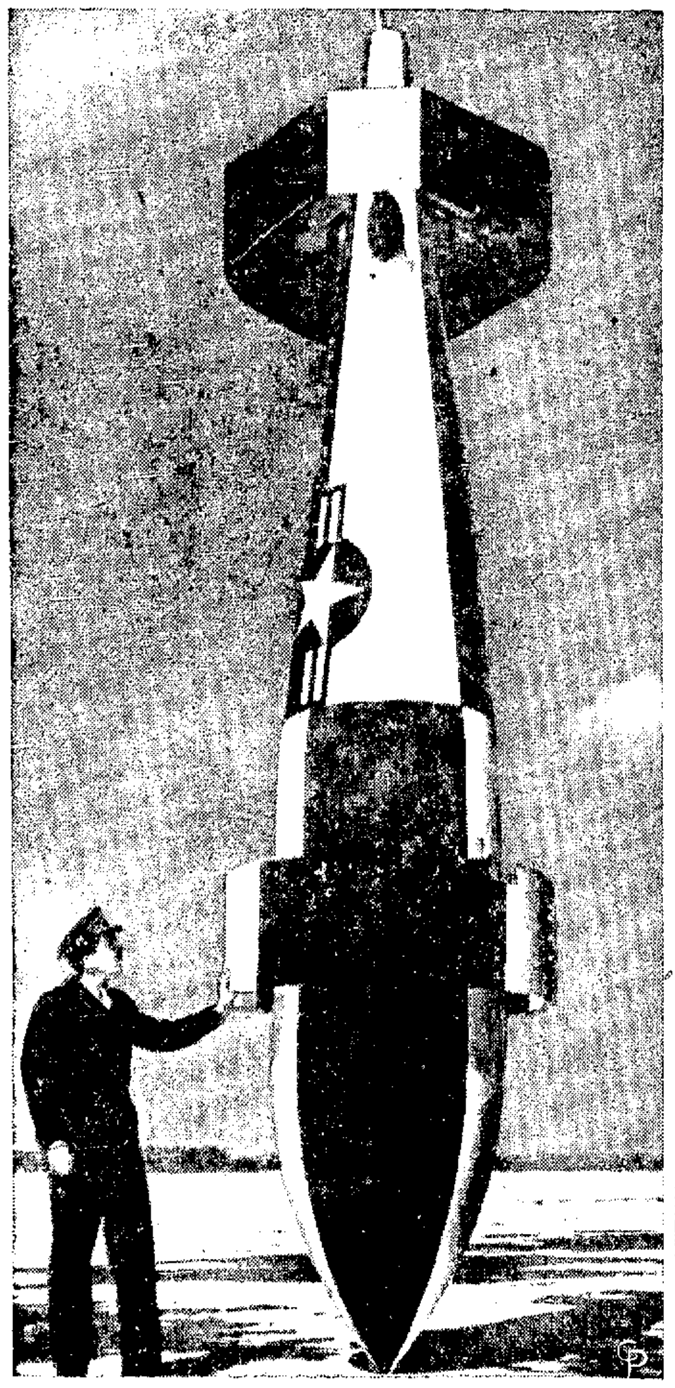
Allies Grab Another Red Base As Big Drive Roars Forward



'TARZON' THE UNTAMED. It's the Air Force's new 12,000-pound radio-controlled bomb, the Tarzon, reported to be achieving excellent destructive results in Korea. B-29's drop them. They are guided by radio from the bombers, with luminous flares issuing from the bombs themselves to enable bombardiers to track them in any weather. They can be controlled even to angle of approach. 3 Die, 30 Hurt In Rail Wreck Near Detroit

5 Cars Jump Track As Passenger Train Battles Fog, Snow

DETROIT, March 15 (AP)—Two women and the infant child of one were killed in a train wreck west of here last midnight and more than 30 persons were injured.

Five cars of a Cincinnati-bound New York Central passenger train left the rails in suburban Trenton as the train felt its way through fog and snow.

The victims included a Michigan State College student's wife and child.

Early today the body of the second woman was still unidentified at the Wayne County Morgue.

Crushed to death in one overturned coach were Mrs. Grace Allen, 25, of East Lansing, Mich., and her year-old baby, Janet.

The young husband, R. S. Allen, suffered minor injuries.

Rescuers and wreckers worked for hours in the fantastic glare of searchlights playing over upset and tilted cars.

Two cars lay on their sides. Three others, including a baggage car, are off the rails. The jumble is in the shape of a huge "U".

A fleet of ambulances, including some from the near-by Grosse Ile Naval Station on the Detroit River, raced with the injured to a hospital in neighboring Wyandotte.

Crews of rescuers worked in the mud and muck left from two days of rain, sleet and snow.

Red Cross Canvass Of Homes Nets But $300

The Red Cross fund drive received a setback Wednesday afternoon when less than $300 was collected in the house-to-house canvass by volunteer workers.

Fred W. George, general chairman, said weather chiefly was responsible for failure of the workers to canvass many homes.

Only $276.39 was received and Mr. George gave special credit to the Pleasant Heights workers who turned in over $148. Of the 35 workers reporting, 16 were from Pleasant Heights.

Mr. George asked persons who were missed to either mail contributions to the Red Cross headquarters at the Mary Patterson Memorial or call 4144.

The house canvass brought the amount received to $5,000, Mr. George said. The goal is $15,000.

Iran Approves Nationalizing Oil Resources

British Government Blasts Move Against English-Owned Firm

TEHERAN, March 15 (AP)—Iran's Parliament today unanimously approved a proposal to nationalize all oil resources, including the wells of the huge, British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

By a standing vote, the majlis (parliament) confirmed the decision of a special parliamentary oil commission endorsing nationalization and gave the commission another two months in which to work out specific details.

Some deputies said there still is a possibility that actual nationalization may be averted by negotiations between the Anglo-Iranian company and the government. But the vote today put parliament on record as approving the take-over.

(In London, Britain's Labor government, which has nationalized much of this country's industry, is raising a storm of protest against the Iranian move.

(A Foreign Office spokesman indicated the British cabinet will consider what steps should follow yesterday's strong official protest against the vote in Iran's parliament.)

Hossein Makki, secretary of the national front which led the nationalization drive, told the majlis: "This is one of the greatest days in the history of the Iranian nation." Spectators in the chamber cheered and clapped for the vote.

County Home Illness Results In Quarantine

LISBON, March 15 (Special)—The County Home is quarantined until further notice because of colds and virus infection, Ray Adam, superintendent, announced today.

Dr. Wade A. Bacon of Lisbon, physician for the home's 130 residents, said there are eight cases of flu and "several" colds.

Two of the five deaths at the home since March 6 can be attributed directly to the flu, Dr. Bacon said. All the deaths have been among the elderly whose resistence is slight, even to an ordinary cold, he added.

Mr. Adam said announcement of visiting privileges will be made when conditions permit. He expects the quarantine to last through next week.

Lot Of Hard Fighting Due U.S. Believes

State Department Says 'Nothing To It' In Talk Of War's End

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—So far as official Washington can judge, there is still a lot of hard fighting ahead in Korea.

The Chinese Communists have not yet taken sufficient punishment to show any interest in making an acceptable political settlement.

Furthermore, despite front-line reports of Communist retreats and the reconquest of Seoul, some bitter battles may have to be fought by the United Nations forces before they come up to the 38th Parallel across the peninsula.

If they do reach the parallel, the U.N. command has ample authority to push on across in accordance with military requirements. However, the generally-accepted view here is that the area of the parallel, either a little north or a little south, probably is about as far as the U.N. forces will try to go in great strength.

Responsible officials discussed the situation today in the light of reports, which have been agitating stock market circles in New York, to the effect that with the capture of Seoul the Korean war can be expected to end in a few days.

State Department Press Officer Michael McDermott says: "There is no basis whatever for any such reports." He added:

"There is no indication whatever that the other side has given up its thought of driving us out of Korea."

This clearly means the State Department has had no indication through the U.N.'s Good Offices Commission or through other nations that the Reds are now interested in a settlement.

The Chinese have declared the objective of taking all of Korea unless there is a settlement on their terms. The United States and other U.N. countries in the struggle have considered the Chinese terms as calling for a virtual U.N. surrender.

There has been and continues to be considerable hope here that when the fighting has gone on long enough and the Chinese are convinced they cannot win the complete victory they seek, then they will be willing to talk more reasonable terms.

Winter's Grip Will Continue

More Snow, Colder Expected By Tonight

Spring is less than a week away but you wouldn't believe it—the weatherman said more snow is due tonight with temperatures to dip below freezing.

Occasional rain or snow was forecast for this afternoon. But it will be milder Friday afternoon. Today's range will be in the mid-30's and tonight's low is expected to be 28 degrees.

About an inch more snow fell Wednesday night, on top of 6 or 7 inches from Tuesday's storm, but little remained on the ground because the wet blanket melted.

This produced icy conditions last night for motorists as the mercury fell to 31—one degree below freezing — and road and street crews spread ashes.

A Street Department crew cindered slippery spots on East Liverpool streets from 11:30 p. m. until 5 this morning. Another crew took over at 7.

As the Ohio Valley got more light snow, it ended in the Midwest—after five days of continuous fall. The snow-covered Central States were cheered by rising temperatures.

Coldest spot early today was Bismarck, N. D., with 3 above. At the same time it was 68 at Phoenix, Ariz., 60 in Los Angeles, 33 in Chicago, 57 in Miami, 43 in New Orleans and 39 in New York. The 88 mark at Los Angeles yesterday was a record for March 14. The day's top was 91 at Yuma, Ariz.

Probe Told Of Dope Smuggling Gain After Luciano Deportation To Italy

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—Narcotics smuggling into the U. S. increased one year after vice king Charles "Lucky" Luciano was deported to Italy, Senate crime probers were told today.

Samuel Levine, an agent for the U. S. Bureau of Narcotics, testified that the flow of illegal drugs from Italy began rising sharply in 1947.

"'Was this one year after one Luciano was deported to that country?" the witness was asked.

"Yes," he said.

Mr. Levine, the first witness on the fourth day of the committee's New York hearings, did not give Luciano's full name. But the one-time U. S. underworld power for years has been connected with the narcotics traffic.

The committee recently named him as the long-distance czar, or intermediary, between a Chicago crime syndicate and a New York-New Orleans crime axis ruled by gambler Frank Costello.

Tracing narcotics operations in the U. S., Mr. Levine said 1936 bureau records showed that a "mob" headed by Thomas Luchese controlled distribution in this key port city.

'OFF THE RECORD'. Frank Costello (left), reputed underworld boss, and his lawyer, George Wolf, muffle the microphones on the witness stand at the Senate crime investigating hearing in New York as they hold a confidential conference.

The mob, he said, had sources of supply in Mexico and California. Mass arrests here and in Arizona partially cracked this operation in late 1941, he said. Luchese escaped punishment, he added.

Television cameras, whose lights played over the hearing room, did not show Mr. Levine on the screen at the request of the Narcotics Bureau.

Mr. Costello, threatened with possible perjury charges as a result of conflicting testimony over telephone wiretaps, is slated to be called later today.

A surprise witness, former New York Telephone Co. employee James F. McLaughlin, told the crime committee that Mr. Costello several years ago paid him between $300 and $400 to check for phone wiretaps at the gambler's residence.

In earlier testimony yesterday, during three hours of questioning, Mr. Costello said he never paid any one to check for wire-tapping on his phone.

Grand Jurors To Question 4 City Policemen

Mayor's Illness Will Prevent Testimony In Gambling Inquiry

Eight East Liverpool men, including Mayor Arnold W. Devon, Police Chief L. J. Wise and three other city policemen were among 17 witnesses scheduled to testify today at Lisbon as the Grand Jury entered the fourth day of its probe into county gambling activities.

However, Mayor Devon will not appear. He has been ill since Tuesday night with influenza, along with his wife and son, and has been ordered to bed by his physician.

Mayors and law enforcement officials from Salineville, East Palestine, Leetonia and New Waterford also were called.

Other local witnesses include Lieutenant George B. Kidd and Patrolmen Ira Cunningham and Robert H. Pyle, William Carpenter, George Rigas and John H. Graham, former city patrolman and ex-deputy sheriff.

Others summoned before the jury are Mayor Karl Lindner and Police Chief James Miller of Salineville; Mayor Paul Merwin, Police Chief G. E. Nulf and Fred Chick of East Palestine; Mayor Fred W. Galley and Chief Henry Gibson of Leetonia; Mayor Fred Hofer of New Waterford, and Constable Roy N. Painter of Hanoverton.

County Prosecutor James L. MacDonald said the jury may begin deliberations Friday afternoon if the current rate of interrogation of witnesses continues.

Hays Declines To Repeat Charges

'Like A Morgue,' R.F.C. Declares

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corp., denounced in Congress and subject of a grand jury investigation, reported today that borrowers now fear to approach it for loans.

"The R.F.C. is like a morgue," said C. Edward Rowe, a member of the huge government lending agency's board of directors. He told a reporter businessmen evidently are afraid to apply to the R. F. C. for loans lest, somehow, they find their names in headlines.

He spoke amid growing charges in both houses of Congress that the R. F. C. has fallen prey to an influence ring with White House roots and that it should be abolished.

Mr. Rowe himself is one of those under fire. A Senate banking subcommittee, headed by Senator Fulbright (D) of Arkansas, announced it will reopen public hearings, probably Monday, to hear his testimony and that of another director, Walter Cosgriff. The subcommittee has accused Mr. Rowe of subservience to outside influences, but has made no accusations against Mr. Cosgriff.

Meanwhile, Representative Hays (D) of Ohio declined to repeat before the Fulbright subcommittee charges he had voiced in a House speech Tuesday that two senators he did not name exerted influence to help get $18,500,000 of R. F. C. loans for a company headed by Guy Gabrielson, Republican national chairman.

Senate Republicans put their shoulders behind a drive to (A) put the R. F. C. out of business, (B) block a White House move to reorganize the agency and (C) keep alive the Fulbright subcommittee's investigation.

The Republican senate policy committee announced those decisions last night after a coalition of House Democrats and Republicans had lost by a narrow margin in an effort to kill President Truman's R. F. C. reorganization plan. The coalition mustered only 200 of the 218 votes it needed.

Mr. Fulbright, who has directed the public airing of R. F. C. affairs, protested that the move to abolish the agency is far too drastic.

The three Republican members of his subcommittee, however, rebelled against his plans to call a halt to the public hearings.

Mr. Fulbright told reporters proper strategy would be to accept the President's plan to replace the five-man R. F. C. board with a single administrator, then adopt legislation creating safeguards against abuse of R. F. C. powers.

He suggested the House vote yesterday gives a hint that R. F. C. foes could not muster a two-thirds majority to pass an R. F. C. repeal bill over a veto by Mr. Truman. He said he hopes Congress won't risk winding up without forcing any R. F. C. shake-up at all.

Reds Challenged Again By Truman On Atomic Control

KEY WEST, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Russia had notice today from President Truman that the United States is rearming primarily to prevent war, but also "to meet such a conflict if it is forced upon us".

He again challenged the Communists to agree upon a foolproof control of atomic and other weapons to enable the world to find peace.

Until this is done, he said, "it is essential to our national security that we build up our defenses as quickly and vigorously as possible".

Mr. Truman gave this definition of the United States' rearmament program in a letter made public at the "Little White House" here last night:

"It is, above all, an effort to prevent a world conflict, while at the same time it is an effort to prepare our defenses to meet such a conflict if it is forced upon us. What we are striving for is peace and international order."

The letter was addressed to Senator Flanders (R) of Vermont.

Representation Is Issue

Legislature Will Revise Disputed Health Measure

The controversial Ohio House Bill 95, which would consolidate Columbiana County's five health districts into one unit, has been turned over to a sub-committee for revision.

State Representative Delmar T. O'Hara Jr. said a fight developed in the committee over the original bill and members on a second vote agreed to revise.

Mr. O'Hara was named chairman of the sub-committee. Others are Dr. Howard L. Williams of Girard, Dr. Harold W. Oyster of Marietta, and Mrs. Ruth Mayne of Dayton, all Republicans, and Joseph Avellone of Dayton, the lone Democrat.

Mr. O'Hara said the sub-committee will hold meetings with both sides and consider amendments.

The biggest stumbling block was the point of representation on the board, he said.

The original bill called for seven members, but a city would have to have one-seventh of the population to have a representative.

In Columbiana County, for example, Mr. O'Hara explained, East Liverpool would be the only city entitled to a representative. Wellsville, East Palestine and Salem would be without members.

Arthur Fiske of Cleveland, a proponent of the bill, told Mr. O'Hara he would be willing to have an amendment providing the present board be dismissed under any consolidation with representatives on the new board to be decided by population.

5 Suffer Injury In 2 Accidents On Route 30

4 From Wisconsin, Akron Man Hurt In After-Dark Mishaps

Five persons were injured, none seriously, in two Route 30 accidents near East Liverpool, Wednesday night.

Four were in a Wisconsin auto that overturned and the other was hurt in a collision with a truck.

The Madison (Wis.) travelers, treated at City Hospital after their auto went out of control and overturned five miles north of the city limits, were identified as:

Robert Silverstein, 23, driver, bruises and abrasions; Leon Letwin, 21, back injury; Ida Teplitzky, multiple bruises, and Delores Peters, bruises.

Ambrose J. Ilg, 45, of Akron, was treated at the hospital for possible fractured ribs received at 11:15 p. m. when his auto collided with a truck operated by William Simes, 39, of Alliance.

The State Highway Patrol said both vehicles skidded on a curve about three miles north of the city.

2 Trucks And 2 Cars Damaged In Accidents

Two minor collisions in downtown East Liverpool damaged two autos and a pair of pickup trucks, police reported.

A mishap at 9:33 this morning at Crook and Diamond Alleys damaged a pickup truck driven by Raymond Johnson of Irish Ridge Road and another owned by C. E. French, Chester contractor, police said. The driver of the Chester truck was not named.

A collision Wednesday at 11:55 a. m. on Market St. at Fourth St. involved a 1939 sedan driven by Norman N. Brown, 26, of 131 West Second St., and a 1947 club coupe operated by Mrs. Mabel N. Adams, 426 West Sixth St., officers said.

Skidding Truck Fells Lisbon Phone Cable

LISBON, March 15 (Special)—Frank Guy, 213 East Lincoln Way, got all tangled up in an accident at 12:30 a. m. today two miles out Route 164.

His coal truck skidded into a row of guard rails and sheared off a telephone pole. The phone lines and cable on the guard rails festooned the truck for nearly four hours until crews could make emergency repairs.

The truck body held the lines high enough above the highway to permit one-way traffic for the period. Mr. Guy was not hurt.

BERLIN, March 15—East Germany's Communist government won the power last night to seize mineral lands without compensation to owners.

Hongchon Leveled By Fleeing Foes

Seoul Says Welcome As U.N. Forces Come Back To City In Force

TOKYO, March 15 (AP)—American assault troops rode across the Hongchon River today and found Hongchon, once a city of 15,000 inhabitants leveled.

Only five civilians and one mangy white horse greeted the liberators as the Yanks rolled into town.

There was only a flurry of light arms fire when Americans entered, but later mortar fire splashed into the town.

Hongchon, at a vital road junction 20 miles south of Parallel 38, has been a major supply center for at least one Chinese army in recent days.

The Reds later opened up with artillery and more mortar fire.

Other United Nations troops returned in force to Seoul today and searched the rubbled streets of the old South Korean capital for hiding Communist soldiers.

The capital's remnant population of old folks and children cheered the return of the Allied fighting men. Communists had held the city since Jan. 4, their second occupation of the war.

All along the Korean front, Allied troops surged northward on the heels of retreating Reds. At some points they were less than 18 miles from the old 38th Parallel to North Korea.

'Let Mac Tell Needs,' Senator Cain Urges

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) — Senator Cain (R) of Washington today urged that President Truman order General Douglas MacArthur back to the United States to tell Congress what is needed to win "victory and peace in Korea".

"If General MacArthur will come to us and tell us what he needs, I am satisfied that the Congress can prevail upon the administration to submit to the United Nations and to press for action on the recommendations which General MacArthur needs to meet his requirements," Mr. Cain said.

'No Business,' R.F.C. Says As Fight Goes On

Hays Declines To Repeat His Charges About Two Senators

Mr. Fulbright contends his investigation already has amply proved charges against the R F C weren't asinine, as Mr. Truman said, and that the R. F C needs a thorough shake-up. But, he insisted the nation still needs the R F C with proper safeguards

Senator Bricker (R) of Ohio, a subcommittee member, threatened in a Senate speech to raise a cry of whitewashing" if the investigation is not kept alive

Mr Bricker denounced the R F C. as "this corrupt agency". He introduced legislation to abolish it and also prohibit all direct government lending to private enterprise.

Mr Bricker demanded that the inquiry continue until it discloses such a host of sickening improprieties that not even Mr Truman can ignore them".

His bills parallel two others authored by Senators Byrd (D) of Virginia and Kem (R) of Missouri to abolish the R. F. C

Two other members of the Fulbright subcommittee, Senators Capehart (R) of Indiana and Bennett (R) of Utah, told the G O P. policy committee they want the probe to continue and the R F C abolished

Mr. Bricker accused Mr Hays of 'cowardly insinuations' about senatorial influence on the Gabrielson loans Mr. Hays had told the House two senators used influence and that he would name them the same night in a radio interview.

Talking on the radio, he mentioned Mr. Bricker and Mr. Capehart in other connections And both senators accused him of unfair and unfounded insinuation.

Mr Capehart said he plans a Senate speech to deal with Mr. Hays refusal to testify before the subcommittee, which yesterday invited the Ohioan to appear at his convenience.

"The truth or substantial truth of what I said can be easily verified by you or by any member of your staff making inquiry of the Reconstruction Finance Corp," Mr Hays wrote the subcommittee in reply

At the R. F C, Mr Rowe and other officials said the morale of their staff is at low ebb and that the demand for R F C. loans 'has fallen off at an amazing rate'.

Mr Rowe said he would not venture an estimate of the percentage decline, but that Nobody comes in to apply for loans. It's clear why they don't'.

Better Take It Easy! Exercise Swells Heart

MORGANTOWN, W Va (UP) Exercise will cause the weight of your heart to increase in proportion to the weight of your body, a former West Virginia University graduate student explained in his master's thesis

Edward J Fedor of Pittsburgh said he had conducted experiments with albino rats that showed the heart was significantly enlarged during exercise The experiments were sponsored by the National Heart Institute

Mr Fedor explained it this way:

"The increased weight is due to the development of cardiac muscle fibers in response to the additional work placed on the heart in supplying the increased oxygen necessary for the tissue during exercise".

Ohio Bell Telephone Co crews hoped to complete repairs today to service lines damaged by the snowstorm as electric companies said they were "all clear" after Wednesday's double power failure

Officials of the Monongahela Power Co at Chester said their interruption resulted from a mechanical failure, probably in a meter, at the Weirton sub-station The utility serves Hancock county

The Ohio Power Co's attempts to pick up the load knocked out fuses in its Wellsville sub-station and the city and other eastern Columbiana county communities joined the 35-minute "blackout"

The phone firm said some 50 lines were down, mainly to rural subscribers

Chunchon, Chinese stronghold eight miles south of the border in central Korea

The Red radio at Pyongyang reported fierce fighting inside Seoul Allied reports said it fell without a shot being fired

The Pyongyang radio, in a broadcast heard in Tokyo, said 100 troops were killed and two tanks were destroyed in the Seoul "battle". It also claimed that six American aircraft were shot down over the city

Associated Press Correspondent Jim Becker reported that Red antiaircraft fire knocked down three U.S. planes and killed at least one jet pilot today in western Korea.

The F-80 flier was killed when his speedy craft was knocked out of the air

A second jet was hit by ack ack while over the northwest coast, but there was no word on the fate of the pilot

Communist antiaircraft guns also hit an F-51 Mustang. The pilot crashed in the U S Third Division area near Seoul. He was rescued by helicopter

Two other American planes met heavy antiaircraft fire, but returned safely

On the east-central front U S Seventh Division troops won a day-long battle with Reds after ambushing the Communists in their own trap set up to wipe out the doughboys.

"We found a dead Gook in every foxhole," said one G I after the clash. The body of a North Korean colonel was reported among the 42 Communist dead counted after the seven-hour fight.

The U S Second Division, fighting on the left of the Seventh, gained against the stiffest Red resistance it has met since the Communists began their front-line pullback last week.

A preliminary count showed Second Division troops killed 350 Communists, wounded 250 and captured eight in a single skirmish north of Yudong.

A spokesman for the U S. 10th Corps said that despite the stiff Red resistance "all signs—existence of mines, roadblocks and delaying tactics—point to a continuing enemy withdrawal toward the 38th Parallel"

Reoccupation by the Allies marked the fourth time the Republican capital of Seoul has changed hands since the war began June 25

Probers

The conflicting statements prompted Senator Estes Kefauver (D) of Tennessee, committee chairman, to say:

"As the matter now appears, it is possible to reconcile the testimony of Mr Costello and Mr McLaughlin as to whether someone checked his wires. So on the basis of that, someone has committed perjury." Mr. Kefauver added:

"I am saying this in the hope that Mr. Costello may have some explanation of his testimony We will refer all this testimony to the Department of Justice to determine what action might be taken I mention this now so that when he (Costello) is back on the stand he may have some explanation."

Rudolph Halley, the committee's chief counsel, said "the offense is complete" even if Mr. Costello takes it back today

"We will give the whole record to the United States attorney's office to determine who is lying." Mr Halley added

Would You Call This 'Haysism'?

THE first excursion of Wayne L. Hays into the national headlines has fizzled out in a dud.

The Democrat from Flushing, who represents this district in Congress, caused a flurry on the floor of the House of Representatives by remarking that he knew at least two senators who had used their influence to get R.F.C. loans for friends.

Since the R.F.C. is sticking out of the news like a sore thumb these days, his statement got national attention.

Challenged to name the men, Mr. Hays ran for cover. He intimated they might have been Senator Bricker of Ohio and Senator Capehart of Indiana, but he declined to say for sure. When the Fulbright committee asked him to come over as a witness, and present facts and figures, he retreated from the scene, mumbling something about the committee finding out for itself.

When Republicans pull this sort of hit-and-run badgering, the Democrats let out lusty yells of "McCarthyism". It would be ironic if the Republicans began referring to such shenanigans on the part of Democrats as "Haysism". That would be more than Mr. Hays bargained for when he arose to make his little contribution to his party's politics.

Any Contrary Opinion?

REPUBLICAN MEMBERS of the Ohio General Assembly have taken a stand in caucus for the proposal to make possession, exhibition, or maintenance of a slot machine in this state a felony.

This is House Bill 115, introduced by Representative Charles Noel Jr. of Pike county. If it were enacted, the principal source of easy money for hoodlums would dry up in a hurry. There would be no more hair-splitting over the status of slot machines, no more slippery evasions, no more set-ups for law-enforcement officials on the make. Just the existence of a slot machine would mean that someone would have to tangle with a charge of being caught red-handed in the commission of a felony.

In other words, here is a proposal for a showdown once and for all on whether Ohio wants to rid itself of the nuisance of this form of gambling, or whether it is interested only in a law with loopholes.

The Republicans have overwhelming majorities in both houses of the General Assembly. They have approved H.B. 115 in party caucus. It remains to be seen who is going to state a contrary opinion, and for what reason.

No Choice

THE Pennsylvania Turnpike's extension to the border of Ohio before the end of this year will bring that famous highway to a dead end. There will be no facilities in Ohio to handle the stream of traffic which is carried westward on the Turnpike.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission must divert the stream before it reaches Ohio. The logical place to do this is at Homestead 12 miles from the Ohio line. Traffic diverted at Homestead would have to find its way westward on existing roads, so far as Ohio is concerned, until the Ohio Turnpike eventually hooks on to the western terminus of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. That will be a good many years from now. Michigan and Indiana then will have somethig to think about.

At a meeting this month, it will be decided what to do with traffic at the western end of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. It has been suggested that Ohio might spend a few million dollars on temporary roads to relieve the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of the embarrassment of having built a super-highway with a dead end. That is out of the question. Every cent this state can raise for road-building for the next 25 years is needed for worthier purposes than rescuing the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Too Tough To Fill

THE BEST TRICK of the flighty 50's is going to be to find a new baseball commissioner to fill the haunted shoes of A. B. Chandler, who has outlived his nickname "Happy".

Though many are being mentioned, it is noticeable that none is being chosen. And that, perhaps, will be the means of getting a meeting of minds on this inconsequential matter which is upsetting the nation.

There was no baseball commissioner before Kenesaw M. Landis. The reason for Judge Landis was a scandal which threatened to put professional baseball on the rocks. Baseball needed him.

But the only reason for Chandler was the fact that Judge Landis died, which is not meant to be unkind to Chandler. The baseball owners were not of one mind on the necessity for keeping him. That is why they are letting him go. They will run things themselves for a while, then will get a new commissioner, first having upped the salary and next—if the candidate knows what is good for him and baseball—having pledged themselves to give their choice a chance to earn it by building him up instead of tearing him down.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

Why Do We Get So Excited About It Anyway?

DEPARTING FOR a moment from the broad canvas which has become my daily chore, my mind turns to Miss Barbara Hutton, who also goes by the name of Princess Troubetzkoy.

I do not know the lady, but I have for many years seen her picture in the newspapers, usually in relation to a marriage or a divorce or attendant circumstances.

In fact, I have seen her face so often in the newspapers that I could conjure its line from my memory. It must be grand and glorious to be a subject of news all one's life, although I am sure that no one in his senses, or hers, would invite so much attention.

I do not recall all the names that this lady has borne through several marriages nor why they should be interesting. I have been told that news about Miss Hutton's lawyers bargaining, in the newspapers, with the prince as to whether he is to have three million dollars or $500,000 for the lady to be relieved of him is very important information and that many readers prefer it to my pontifications on world affairs.

Well, there you are. There is no accounting for tastes. After all, this lady's greatest contribution to current history has been her ability to marry a variety of men at different times, but in a sort of juxtaposition, and to get rid of them with facility.

IT WAS SO much easier in the time of the Borgias. They just poisoned those whom they no longer loved. Catherine the Great killed her outmoded or outworn lovers. But ours is a legalistic and journalistic age. Each collapse of a marriage needs to be legalized and publicized with plenty of photography. It is a mark of progress and civilization!

I have never quite been able to understand how all these stories come out, unless they are given out. I have been in this business of reporting for 34 years, more or less, and I have yet to find that these intimate relations between a man and a woman make their way into the press unless the parties most concerned provide them.

Of course, when they reach the police blotter or the law court, they are news. But when they are in the talking stage, someone must give the press a tip. It is usually a hired press agent. And I still wonder why anyone wants to have family disputes so advertised that they become front-page news.

Enormous amounts of newsprint were consumed telling of the fiery romance of the Troubetzkoys, with all sorts of photographs. I could not help thinking, as I noted these stories, that the principals were a little overage for the sort of playing around that was described.

It looked to me as though this red-hot business was for the 20's, when it all seems cute, rather than for middle-aged folks, when it seems bizarre.

PERHAPS I am old-fashioned, and someone did say of me that I am to the right of Louis XVI, whose head was chopped off. But there used to be a dignity about middle age that seemed gracious. And it had nothing to do with red-hot press agent stories.

And now that very exciting romance has broken up and these pigeons are fighting over money. He wants three million dollars to quit and she will only give him $500,000.

Also, it used to be the other way about. It was the man who paid off the gal. But in these days of equal rights and fair deals and such, it is the dame who pays off her lord and master. That makes a man a gigolo.

Really, why don't these people retire and get out of our lives? We had the Bergman woman and that fantastic Ali Khan person. But the perennial is this Barbara Hutton. All the time, for some reason or another, we see her face in the news in relation to a scandal.

There must be some place to which these narcissus-inclined persons may retire where they can look at their own pictures and read of their own romances, marriages and divorces to their heart's content.

And as I read this line, I wonder how it comes that I read so much about them and look at their pictures. There's a catch in all this, like everybody laughing when a fat man slips on a banana peel. The other fellow's troubles seem so funny. But that can become tiresome, too.

Does It Make Sense?

By Truman Twill

DEAR DIARY: There are some days when a human being wonders what makes sense. Yesterday was that kind of a day.

The men came to install the new television whatizzit. They put up a do-funny on the top of the house which looks like the main-mast rigging of an American clipper ship—makes the cottage - small-by-the - mortgage-loan look topheavy. Does all that metal tubing make sense, just to pick up stuff that makes so-little sense when it is looked at in the living room?

A lady came by with a bushy-tailed black cat that needs a home. The cat immediately assumed davenport privileges. It is a female cat. In due time there will be kittens. There is not enough room on the davenport for a litter of kittens. Does it make sense that a human being should be crowded off his own davenport in his own home by a stray female cat?

The sheep were led astray by the goat, and when darkness fell the whole kit and kaboodle were lost on someone else's property a half a mile away, a fact not discovered until midnight, after hours of tramping up hill and down dale with a half-used-up flashlight.

The discovery was fruitless, because the flock couldn't be herded home after dark through three barbed-wire fences anyway. They found their way home this morning without any assistance. Why didn't they do it last night?

Everybody is frantically busy blaming everybody else in high places for not knowing what no one possibly could have known, instead of blaming the fact some things are not knowable. Surely, this does not make sense, unless it made sense in the dark ages to select a scapegoat and unload all community guilt on it, thereby relieving human consciences.

There is a great deal of worrying being done with good cause over what will happen to higher education if all young men must take out a couple of years of their lives, beginning at age 18, to serve in the armed services, yet the educational process continues to drag along on a five-day week, with three months thrown away in the summertime. Does that make sense?

Does it make sense to send boys away when the Swiss do the same thing by providing the basic elements of military training in connection with education, itself thereby avoiding long periods of military training at the expense of all other preparations for adult activity?

Russian Weaknesses

By Dewitt Mackenzie

IT CERTAINLY bolsters confidence to hear from a commander in chief who has led his conquering armies across western Europe that America could defeat Russia if war came.

The way General Eisenhower put it to the Senate foreign relations committee during his recent examination was that "our enlightened 150 million people can still whip 190 million backward people" in Russia if war comes.

He also declared that with sufficient air and sea support, 12 American divisions could hold the Breton Peninsula of southwest France against the Russians.

General Ike apparently bases these estimates not only on western strength but on potential Russian weakness. One of the most impressive parts of his testimony was his prediction that if there is war, the Red satellites will turn against Moscow.

He declared that "dissident elements all the way from the Balkans right up to the Baltic will rise".

That is a likelihood which this column has been hammering on for a long time as one of the most important aspects of the continuing crisis. There can be no doubt that the disaffection now apparent among the satellites weighs heavily with Russia's plans.

These satellites not only have been Russia's bulwark across eastern and central Europe, but Moscow originally looked to them as sources of supplies and manpower. Those expectations now have gone glimmering. And worse yet, from the Soviet viewpoint, the satellites have become potential active foes of Bolshevist rule.

The complexion of the military situation in Europe has changed greatly in recent months. This has been due in part to growing western strength and in part to growing Russian weakness which springs from dissident satellites.

It Takes A Shovel Now

Military, Policy Decisions Go Together

By Mark Sullivan

WE ARE NEARING the end of the great debate. Primarily it has been on sending troops to Europe and, if so, in what numbers.

Secondarily the debate has been on whether the decision should be made wholly by the President or whether Congress should have a hand. The latter issue is increasingly to the front.

Many members of Congress support sending troops to Europe, in some numbers and with some limitations—but at the same time fight doggedly for the principle that Congress should participate in making the decisions.

Throughout the arguments against participation by Congress has run a recurrent theme. As put by a highly-placed source, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York: "I believe that the deployment of troops is a job for experts and not politicians. . . . I will trust General Marshall, General Eisenhower and the chiefs of staff, rather than any one else. . . ."

Many persons, less exact in expression, have put it more colloquially. In effect they say: "This is a thing for military men to decide." With many undoubtedly this is a conscientious conviction. It could reasonably be. With others it is perhaps an escape from the hard work of thinking the problem through.

In all events this position ignores a profound truth. Military decisions are rarely military alone, almost all important ones are also policy decisions. To put it more exactly, the military decisions have policy effects and the policy effects remain after the war.

YALTA is an example. There President Roosevelt, in a secret agreement with Stalin, promised that Russia, after the war, should have territory belonging to China, specifically Manchuria, together with other advantages at the expense of China.

Mr. Roosevelt made the agreement for a military purpose, to induce Stalin to help us in our war against Japan. Up to that time Russia had participated only in the war against Germany. But the Yalta decision had policy effects disastrous to us. It largely enabled Russian communism to overrun China and set up a Communist government of China which now fights us in Korea.

Another example is the invasion of Europe, the "second front". General Marshall wanted the invasion made through France, launching it in Normandy. As a military decision that was sound. Distance and other considerations made France the best starting place for the invasion.

But above the level of military decision was policy decision. About that there was two years of dispute. Winston Churchill, wise about the long history of Europe and foresighted about the future, wanted the invasion made through the Balkans, obviously in order that after the war the Balkans and eastern Europe should be occupied by the Allied forces, not by the Russians.

Stalin wanted the invasion made through France, naturally. In his conference with Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill at Teheran he blustered for it. Mr. Roosevelt, after prolonged argument among the three, took Stalin's view. That decision, with others determined by Mr. Roosevelt, resulted in the Russians occupying most of the Balkans, most of eastern Europe and Germany up to and including part of Berlin. That policy decision was a chief reason why we are now called upon to defend western Europe against Russia.

TEN YEARS of history can be summarized, with excess of condensation of course, in two sentences—our military decisions, as such, were for the most part sound. We won the war. Our policy decisions, however, made by Mr. Roosevelt during the war, and after the war by Mr. Truman or in his administration, have been in large part disastrous. We lost the peace.

This judgment, carefully stated and clearly explained, is held by military historian Hanson Baldwin in Great Mistakes Of The War. He says it is a national American trait about war: "We have fought for the immediate victory, not for the ultimate peace."

Dwelling on decisions that resulted in disaster after the recent war was over, Mr. Baldwin specifies and emphasizes two: "In February, 1945, at Yalta, and on June 6, 1944, the date of the Allied invasion of Normandy, it might be said that we lost the peace."

It has come to be that military decisions and policy decisions are at once distinguished from each other and inseparable from each other.

In this condition Congress has come to have a permanent duty, quite regardless of the momentary discussion about the merit of sending troops to Europe. It has a duty to itself and to the people, to take a part in decisions related to war that are likely to affect long-term policy decisions.

St. Louis Omen

By Raymond Moley

THE REPUBLICAN candidate, Claude Bakewell, was elected by a very significant margin in voting in Missouri's 11th congressional district.

His plurality was about 6,000. This is a striking reversal of sentiment. Last November, John Sullivan, a Democrat, won by 26,062. In 1948 he won by 37,443.

This sudden turn must have a significance beyond the immediate local circumstances that attended this election. It is too sudden and too large a change in votes to be explained on such grounds.

The circumstances brought out in the Missouri campaign—the brazen connections between politics and gambling, the dependence upon machine methods and the appeal to minority groups—are not peculiar to the 11th Missouri district.

They prevail all over the nation, and their trail leads straight to Washington.

What we can learn from this by-election is that the moral standards of voters, even voters in districts which stand most to gain by government handouts, are higher than those set by recent activities of people high in power in Washington.

If there is to be a swing back in 1952, it must be accelerated by an appeal to the moral code in public life, for the people, despite their tendency to believe in promises, expect more from their elected officials than they have been getting. If that appeal is made, this St. Louis omen may indeed be the beginning of the end.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Crime Probe

ELMER (SLUGS) TWITCHELL, called to the witness stand for grilling in the Kefauver committee's probe into crime in New York, shouted, "I am innocent!" in a firm voice. He was reminded that he hadn't been accused of anything specifically yet and replied, "I stand on that statement, just in case."

Slugs was interrupted by a stranger who shuffled up and whispered in his ear. It was a fellow who had the wrong address for a rolling crap game and wanted to get the right one.

"Now then," began his inquisitor, "what is your connection with the slot machine, pinball and bookie syndicates?"

"Who? Me? I'm just a big businessman," replied Slugs. "I wouldn't know a slot machine from a slot machine even if it turned out to be a pinball machine."

Another stranger came down the aisle and said something to him at this point. It was an impatient associate who had the morning list of those whom Twitchell wished killed. Mr. Twitchell verified it swiftly.

AREN'T YOU widely known as the King of the Racketeers?" the questioner demanded.

"I resent that question and when I am in a resenting mood I am a bad man to handle," said Slugs. "I am a reputable owner of a chain of skyscrapers, an industrialist of note and I love birds, bees and flowers."

"Aren't you well known as a top man in the national horse track gambling racket?"

"No. I can't understand how a dirty rumor like that about a prominent iron, steel and oil operator like me could get around."

Slugs was interrupted again. This time a couple of associates came up to him and had quite a whispered conversation. It seemed they were having trouble fixing a basketball game, two horse races and a fight. They apparently straightened things out and the inquiry was resumed.

"How many night clubs, gambling casinos, tropical hotels and laundries do you control?" the interrogator demanded.

"I WOULDN'T know a night club if you held a gambling casino right under my nose no matter what laundry it was. Where do people get such ideas about an honest man interested only in building a bigger and better America?"

Here a messenger boy came in and handed the witness a wire. It read, "Will need more cement. Bumped off two instead of one as per instructions. Sorry. Dipsy."

Mr. Twitchell placed the wire in his pocket. "Pardon it, please," he smiled. "One of my secretaries wanted to know if I cared to sell a couple of apartment houses. By the way, who borrowed my racing sheet while my head was turned?"

Here the hearing was thrown into an uproar. A tire backfired outside. Most of the witnesses made for the nearest exit in a panic.

I DON'T KNOW what luck Ike will have with the Atlantic pact command, but I hear he got a cable from Tokyo reading "Is that Columbia job still open?" signed "Disillusioned Doug."

But from MacArthur's experience it's obvious why the administration wants no ceiling on the number of American troops who will go to England to defend Brooklyn. They just don't want Ike to get lonely.

Jet Scientist Arrested On Perjury Count

Charged With Lying About Defendants In Atom Bomb Spy Case

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—A jet propulsion scientist was accused of perjury today in connection with the atom bomb spy trial in Federal Court here.

The expert, William Perl, 32-year-old Columbia University physics instructor, was called into court to face a federal indictment.

The government charges he lied when he told a grand jury that he was not acquainted with two of the spy trial defendants and other persons connected with the case.

Mr. Perl was described by a spokesman at the office of U. S. Attorney Irving Saypol as "one of the two top scientists in the field of aerodynamics".

F.B.I. agents arrested him at his home here last night on an indictment returned Tuesday by a federal grand jury which has been investigating atomic espionage.

The indictment is connected with the case of three persons accused of wartime conspiracy to spy for Russia.

The defendants, who could be sentenced to death if convicted, are Julius Rosenberg, 32, electrical engineer; his wife, Ethel, 35, and Morton Sobell, 33, radar expert.

Mr. Perl was indicted on four counts of perjury. They concern testimony he gave last Aug. 18 and Sept. 11 in which he allegedly denied knowing Mr. Rosenberg and Mr. Sobell. Mr. Perl also was accused of lying about "association and friendship" with other persons mentioned in the case.

A district attorney's spokesman said Mr. Perl is believed to have gone to college with Mr. Rosenberg and Mr. Sobell and to have been a roommate of Mr. Sobell in Washington in 1940.

F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington that Mr. Perl has been under investigation since shortly after the arrest of Harry Gold, Philadelphia bichemist, in May, 1950. Mr. Gold, who pleaded guilty to spy charges, is serving a 30-year prison term.

Many Factors Called Threat To Civilization

Over-Population, Dip In Resources And Tillable Land Cited

HONG KONG March 15 (UP) Natural factors and over-population are threatening the existence of the human race an American food expert says

He pointed to the decrease of tillable land the shrinking of the world's natural resources and increasing erosion of top soil as danger

Rev D K Faris formerly head of the Department of Agriculture of the Cheloo University in Shantung and formerly connected with UNESCO and the Yellow River Development project warns that if this development goes on at the same rate for another 70 years there will be widespread depression and starvation in the world and mankind would have to find another planet where we could get some land to live on

In a lecture here on food problems Dr Faris painted the following gloomy picture

Of the total area of the earth one-quarter is land and only from one-third to one-half of the land surface is under cultivation The amount of land supporting plant life has decreased by one third since the time man began to inhabit the earth

Rivers all over the world are carrying away immense quantities of top soil which is vital to the survival of mankind China's Yellow River during flood periods dumps five tons of precious silt into the sea each day In the United States it was estimated that one-third of the top soil has been washed away

There was also evidence of a decrease in rainfall and a lowering of the water table in many regions For instance in a certain valley in the United States where water used to flow out of artesian wells for irrigation purposes water has now to be pumped out

In the United States too forest reserves have shrunk by 50 per cent in the last 40 years There interest in the land in some of the best grain-growing districts also has fallen off as much as 50 per cent since the first white man landed on the continent because of poor farming practices

The seas also are being robbed of fish without replacement This is especially true on both shores of America where the size of the catch is now half of what it used to be 30 years ago

The fowl population and the animal world—two of the most important sources of food supply also are shrinking and more and more people are turning to a vegetable diet

How would this fit in with the population figure? The population of the world has risen to a present high of over two billion from 400 million in 1630

Newspaper Becomes International Cupid

ATLANTA Ga (UP) If it wanted to the Atlanta Constitution could set up shop as an international cupid

Nearly a year ago the newspaper published for its novelty effect a letter from an Italian girl seeking help in finding a husband in America

The letter was carried around the world on press wires and eventually an American man went to Italy and married the girl

Since then the Constitution has received similar letters from a dozen other hopeful Italians Some were from men seeking American wives

Anthony Capano 25-year-old blond of Benevento Italy asked for someone tall rich and sympathetic Renato Velgrosso of Torino said he would like a wife in the United States because 'my mind thinks like an American

Antonia Rusconi of Piacenza gave her letter perhaps the most unusual twist

I would be glad to marry a man 50 to 70 years old," she wrote

Medical Cure Seen Possible In Alcoholism

Researcher Says Treatment Can Aid 70% Of Addicts

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Scientific medical treatment and intelligent follow-through care can cure more than 70 per cent of the nation's alcoholics a pioneer student of alcholism has reported

Dr Andrew C Ivy said, however, that there is no sure-fire panacea for all cases Social environments and personality traits different in each case, play important roles in causing a chronic drinker he said, and each must be dealt with differently

But group therapy, use of the drug antabus and work of alcoholic social workers—each properly prescribed for the individual—prove that much can be done for the problem drinker said Dr. Ivy, vice-president of the University of Chicago

The scientist surveyed results of his own work and that of his colleagues at Chicago's Portal House as the new National Alcoholism Foundation was announced

Dr Ivy said the foundation a non-profit institution of which he will be a trustee, will make a concrete attempt to help problem drinkers through research into causes, effects and treatment of their disease and related disorders Its headquarters will be in the nearby San Fernando Valley

He emphasized the value of follow-up care, including psychiatric treatment medical rehabilitation group therapy and social readjustment Hospitalization is important he said but an alcoholic isn't cured as soon as he gets out of a hospital bed

The researcher criticized present methods of dealing with alcoholics, which frequently are either jail sentences or commitments to mental institutions Neither are effective, and both are wasteful he said

Society has produced the chronic alcoholic and society must assume some responsibility of rehabilitating the problem drinkers ' he said

'Pirate' Fishing Angers Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Pirate fishing in Mexican coastal waters is stripping Mexico of a good portion of its rich resources in shrimp lobster and other sea foods

A navy ministry source said at least 130 cases of pirate fishing were recorded during the last 12 months

'Those were the ones we either saw directly or heard about he said A lot more get away without being seen '

The chief offenders are United States and Cuban fishermen The Americans raid the beds along the Pacific coast and northern gulf shores of Mexico The Cubans concentrate in the southern gulf shores

The navy spokesman admitted the problem of enforcement of Mexican fishing regulations is difficult'

No one ever admits he is guilty the spokesman said Even if port authorities rule the pirate fisher was caught inside the limits—and many are caught throwing contraband fish overboard—the fishing captain usually complains to his nearest consulate and the matter becomes an international incident '

Policemen Make Most Of Their Wrong Steer

WASHINGTON (UP) — When vice squad detectives asked directions a bystander in a Washington building referred them upstairs

His directions were wrong The office sought by police actually was on the first floor But they made the most of the mistake They opened an unlocked door on the second floor and found themselves in a room containing four men, three telephones, three radios a television set $4 000 in cash and checks scattered about and a mound of scratch sheets and numbers slips

Indians Prosper In Stock Raising

WASHINGTON (UP) — The number of cattle owned by Indians has more than doubled since 1932

Cattle stocks for the country as a whole have increased only about 20 per cent during that period

The figures come from Dillon S Myer commissioner of Indian affairs

At the start of the agricultural extension and credit program under the Bureau of Indian Affairs in 1932 Indians owned 182 000 head of cattle from which they derived hardly more than one million dollars a year Today they own nearly 400 000 head producing an annual income of 30 million dollars

Indians are learning the rules of the highly-competitive cattle business and are adding significantly to the country's store of meat supplies" Mr Myer said

Indians always have owned livestock but not until the early 1930's did high-grade beef and dairy cattle figure prominently in their livestock programs

At that time parts of the country were stricken with drought Rather than slaughter the high quality beef and dairy cattle in those areas for lack of water some head were shipped to various Indian reservations to be paid back in kind later After the drought other tribes bought their own cattle and in 1934 congressional action was taken which materially aided the Indians in getting a start in the cattle business

Deputy Sheriffs Decide They'll Look Western

OMAHA (UP)—Maybe it's the Hopalong Cassidy fad

Deputies in the Douglas county sheriff's office here got together after the election of Sheriff Richard Collins They came up with a suggestion for a uniform to lend a note of authenticity to the post of deputy

The uniforms consist of a western-style shirt cowboy hat western-style trousers and jacket a five pointed badge black leather holsters and pearl-handled revolvers

Boy Spoiled For Rod, So His Father Got It

MEMPHIS Tenn (UP) — Bus passengers sympathized with a man trying to keep his young son from sprawling in the aisle Finally, the father talked to the driver

The bus stopped The man alighted returning with a small willow switch The boy scrambled to his seat

Woman Picks Up Drug Habit During 18-Year Hiccuping

COLUMBUS March 15 (AP)—A light fixture fell on a teacher s head 18 years ago and started a hiccuping siege that has lasted to this day

The full aftermath of the injury to Miss Virgil Vale, now 54 came to light in U S District Court here Tuesday The gray-haired former teacher who has hiccuped every 30 seconds since stands accused of being a drug addict

Al Cook U S narcotics agent told the chain of events that linked the accident in the Cambridge (O) school and the federal charge

The hiccups brought on terrific pain and Miss Vale had to quit teaching

There were trips to Johns Hopkins and the Cleveland Clinic and two operations But the hiccups stayed

In 1936 physicians prescribed drugs to ease the pain But in 1944, Miss Vale found she needed more than she could get legally The answer was forging prescriptions

Mr Cook finally caught up with her Judge Mell G Underwood heard the story and decided to send her to the U S Public Health Service Hospital at Lexington Ky That's where they try to cure you of the drug habit

Maybe these hiccups will go away too' the little woman said hopefully yesterday as she left for the hospital

'I Do's' Are Exchanged By Elliott And Mrs. Ross

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the late president, took Mrs. Minnewa Ross, California heiress, as his bride today.

Dade (Miami) county Circuit Judge George E. Holt performed the ceremony at 10:30 a. m. in Mrs. Ross' home on fashionable Sunset Island. It was the fourth marriage for each.

Mrs. Ross, 39, was divorced Monday in Key West from Dr. Rex L. Ross Jr., physician and surgeon of Santa Monica, Calif.

The couple will leave Miami at 3:50 p. m. for the one-hour flight to Cuba, where they will spend a three-day honeymoon.

Mrs. Ross is the daughter of the late Alphonzo Bell, millionaire founder of the Bel-Air district and original developer of the Santa Fe Springs oil fields in California. The family has considerable property in Southern California and Colorado.

Mrs. Ross is a graduate of the Marlborough School for Girls and the Sarah Lawrence College in New York. Her first husband was Miles Robert Gray, head of a shirt manufacturing company, whom she married in 1932. They separated two years later and in 1938 she married William Hamilton Burnside, British-born film agent. They were divorced the following year and she married Dr. Ross in 1941.

Mr. Roosevelt, 40, formerly was married to Elizabeth Donner, Ruth Googins and Faye Emerson.

Hotel Interests Eye City Business Property

William B. Powell, operator of the C. W. Powell & Co., real estate brokers, said today two or three local people are interested in business properties on East Sixth St. on which he holds an option.

In addition to the local individuals, Mr. Powell said two hotel chains also have expressed an interest in the buildings owned by Michael Manos of Greensburg. Local owners are preferred, he indicated.

However, no deals have been made for the sale of the property, which covers about 100 feet on both East Sixth St. and St. Clair Ave.

Patterson Foundry Installs Equipment

The Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. has purchased additional heavy equipment for defense orders for which the government has approved tax benefits of $73,767.

These benefits, granted under the Defense Production Act, consist of letting a firm charge off the cost of equipment for income tax purposes faster than normally permitted.

The aim to encourage private business to go ahead with expansion needed for the defense program.

Ceramists To Give Bleininger Award

The Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society will present the highest award in its specialized field Friday night to a man who helped develop the "giant eye"—the world's largest telescope at Mt. Palomar, Calif.

Dr. John C. Hostetter of Winter Park, Fla., retired president of the Mississippi Glass Co. in St. Louis, Mo., will receive the annual Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award for distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

'They Don't Fight The Regular Way'

Reds Puzzle Fierce-Battling Turks

By TOM LAMBERT
Associated Press Staff Writer

NORTH KOREA, Mar 15 (AP) — Turkish Captain Ismail Cataloglu of Ankara hunched over a stove in a little room of a gray stone building in a burning North Korean town and shook his head in angry bewilderment.

"They don't fight the regular way," he complained of the Chinese Communists the Turks have encountered on the fiery U N northwest front. "They sneak in at night. When we fire, they run away"

Not all the Chinese have got away, however. Captain Cataloglu said the hard-bitten soldiers of the Turkish brigade have "killed a lot of them" in the last two busy days He spoke briefly in Turkish to another Turkish officer, who nodded agreement A private gnawing on a half loaf of bread nodded also

Captain Cataloglu is military secretary to Turkish General Tahsin Yacici, who was too busy going to the front today to explain what his men have done since encountering the Chinese

GOING TO the front is a popular pastime with the Turks, apparently. Few ranking officers could be found around the Turks' command post All had "gone to the front'.

Captain Cataloglu said Turks met Chinese the first time early Tuesday They had been ordered to Tokchon But before arriving at that enemy-held town they were told to take and secure a pass to the west

"We turned the vehicles back," Captain Cataloglu said "We left about five or six trucks behind, they were broken down, and about 100 men. Some are back.

"After turning back one attack about 6 a m, we heard machine guns and mortars again so we alerted our men and sent security patrols to the high ground

"We engaged them about 7 a m. It was so woody and rocky there we could see nothing Both sides fired. We launched an attack and pushed them back about four miles east toward Tokchon.

"We fought all day Two officers and five men were killed. The general sent patrols who found a strong force of them trying to surround us about three miles behind our lead positions We withdrew to high ground.

"ABOUT midnight (Wednesday) some of our artillery officers came in and said they had been ambushed. Some trucks had been set afire. We sent out a reconnaissance patrol. They were ambushed Fourteen men were killed. Then suddenly communications were out. Then we heard mortars and machine gun fire about 600 yards from the command post. We sent a company there. They seized the ground and still are there."

Captain Cataloglu said one of the Turk battalions, commanded by Major Miktat Uluunlu of Istanbul was "surrounded now" and that a company and some American tanks had been sent to aid them.

Lieutenant Theodore Pickett of San Diego led the platoon of tanks carrying the Turkish company to the battalion's "rescue", but reported it was not surrounded.

"But those guys!" he said in amazement. "The captain of that company I took up there—he wants to attack I couldn't get him to come back."

Woods Combed For Vet Who Shot Down Three

ASHLEY, Pa, March 15 (AP) —Fifty heavily-armed state policemen, alert against any possible ambush, searched a thickly-wooded area near here today for a Navy veteran of the Korean war wanted for killing his estranged wife, her father and brother-in-law.

Sergeant Charles A Connolly said all officers assigned to the hunt for 22-year-old Edward Rovinski have been ordered to "take every precaution" because Mr. Rovinski was last seen carrying a rifle and an automatic pistol after the triple slaying late yesterday.

"We have no proof he is in the woods, but we are taking no chances" Sergeant Connolly said.

Mr. Rovinski, the sergeant said, opened fire late yesterday on a car in which his wife was riding. The car crashed to a stop in a schoolyard and Mr. Rovinski, calmly reloading his rifle, killed his 22-year-old wife, Margaret; her father, Andrew Stuka, 55, and her brother-in-law, George Tomko, 33

Taft Collects Bet With Help Of His 'Little Black Book'

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) —Because he has a long memory and a "little black book", Senator Taft (R) of Ohio won a fancy humidor filled with expensive cigars

Mr Taft explained to reporters yesterday that "four years ago I bet Senator Millikin that the price of silver would not get to $1 29 by the end of 1950. I put it down in my little black book".

Mr. Millikin, of Colorado, chairman of the conference of Republican senators, said Mr. Taft had won the bet

Four years ago silver was selling on the free market in this country at about 70 cents an ounce. Congress adopted a policy of paying about 91 cents an ounce for it.

The government issues currency against it at a rate of $1 29 an ounce and Mr Millikin, one of the Senate silver boosters, bet that the free market price would reach this level. Yesterday the free market price in New York was 90 16 cents an ounce.

Mr. Taft does not smoke cigars. He passed them around to other senators.

Late-Comers In Tax Rush

Refunding Picks Up; Returns To Be Eyed

Several tardy taxpayers made the usual rush on the Internal Revenue Office this morning to file income tax returns before the midnight deadline

A few were waiting when the office opened this morning but Robert S Blackburn deputy collector in charge said there's no big rush and little waiting

The office will observe its normal closing at 5 p m but returns postmarked before midnight are acceptable There is a penalty for late returns

Not even the Internal Revenue Bureau in Washington knows just how many people have applied for refunds by early returns but it says refunds had gone out to 6 537 649 taxpayers for a total of $305 781 267 —an average of $46 65 each—at this month's start

The big annual refunding operation is just commencing to pick up speed so refunds will flow faster over the next few weeks

Over 2 037 000 refunds or nearly one third of the total made since Jan 1 were crowded into the last week of February

The Revenue Bureau hopes to clean up by June 15 nearly all the $1 600 000 000 in estimated refunds

The chances are about 1 in 12 that the income tax return you must make as an individual by midnight will be scrutinized to be sure you paid enough That is if you are in the so-called lower brackets

If you are among those fortunate few whose income exceeds $25 000 annually, the odds are even that federal agents will examine your return

Bureau policies with respect to checking returns were disclosed to the House Appropriations Committee during hearings on the 1952 Treasury appropriation bill

Advice From A Pediatrician

What If Child Won't Eat? Let Him Alone, Mothers!

LOS ANGELES March 15 (AP)—What do you do about the child who won't eat? The best thing is to let him alone says a leading pediatrician Dr Milo B Brooks He believes there are certain personal liberties eating breathing sleeping—which shouldn't be regimented Interfering with such natural functions in a normal child is an invasion of privacy he told a news conference yesterday I've known mothers who tried to regulate the rate of breathing in their children because they'd read somewhere that a child should take one deep breath in every six

Dr Brooks is head of the pediatrics department at the College of Medical Evangelists here He is directing short courses in that subject at the college's medical convention now in session

The child who won't eat says Dr Brooks is one of our biggest problems I would say it is almost entirely the result of the mother's attempt to force food upon children

Normal children he said come with built-in appetites They eat when they are hungry

A child can skip eating for several days without harm in his opinion

The truth is that no child should have all he wants to eat Children — and adults too — should eat 10 per cent less than they feel they want except in rare pathological instances

That old admonition, 'Clean up your plate', has been misinterpreted What it really meant originally was that you shouldn't put too much on your plate in the first place I don't think it's generally realized that 40 per cent of the energy gained from food is used up in the processes of digestion and assimilation"

A snack after school is all right but Dr Brooks doesn't approve of indiscriminate between-meals piecing and he discourages food as a plaything

Children should have food to eat and toys to play with The two shouldn't be mixed ' he said

On March 27 Duquesne and Wyoming will match baskets in the opening game. They will be followed by Bradley's host Braves who draw the fast-breaking Hilltoppers from Western Kentucky.

Games on March 28 will pit Syracuse against Toledo in the opener and Utah against Villanova in the nightcap.

After taking off Thursday, March 29, the first round winners will meet in the semi-finals on March 31.

Kansas State Swamps Illinois Quint, 91-72

MANHATTAN, Kas., March 15 (AP)—There's little doubt the Kansas State Wildcats will be at peak condition for the Western NCAA basketball playoffs next week.

They demonstrated almost perfect basketball finesse last night in soundly trouncing Illinois, the Big Ten champion, 91-72.

The game served as a tuneup for the NCAA playoffs. Illinois will paraticipate in the Eastern playoffs, meeting Columbia in New York City March 20.

The Wildcats, Big Seven Conference titlists, took the lead after 13 minutes and stayed in front the remainder of the game. They were ahead 51-46 at halftime.

Garfield And McKinley Clash For Cage Crown

Garfield and McKinley square off this afternoon in the championship finals of the annual Grade School Basketball Tournament. Tipoff time is 4:15 at the High School gym.

Garfield, co-league winner, ruled a slight favorite. The East Enders defeated Pleasant Heights, 24-20, in the semi-finals while McKinley's "dark horse" passers upset Sixth Street's defending champs, 16-11.

Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson not only played the gridiron sport while a student at Minnesota, but also was hockey goalie and captain of the golf team.

Mangrum Makes Clean Sweep In Seminole Golf

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, golf's leading money winner of 1951, picked up another $2,500 yesterday when he made a clean sweep of the $10,000 Seminole Golf Tournament.

Mangrum finished the 54-hole pro competition with a record score of 203 to win $1,500 top money and teamed with Edward B. McLean to pick up another $1,000 in the pre-member division.

Mangrum played the 6,83-yard Seminole Golf Club course where par is 35-36-72 in rounds of 69, 67 and 67 to beat par by 13 strokes and break the record set last year by Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., who posted a 207.

Mangrum's winnings boosted his earnings for the year to $9,626. He won the pro division by three strokes over Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Pete Cooper of Ponte Vedra, Fla., who tied for second at 206 and won $850 each.

As if he didn't cause enough commotion among National League batters last season, Philadelphia's Jim Konstanty has announced he has perfected a "new pitch".

Meineke-Zawoluk Duel May Decide NIT Crown

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—The National Invitation basketball title, in the final reckoning, may hinge on the individual duel tonight between Dayton's brilliant Don Meineke and big Bob Zawoluk of St. John's.

"We certainly look upon Meineke as our main obstacle, the No. 1 problem," said Frank McGuire, young coach of the Redmen from across the East River.

"This game will be decided by Meineke or Zawoluk, whoever controls the foul situation," McGuire said. His biggest fear is that Zawoluk may foul out.

St. John's, top-seeded, will make dark-horse Dayton at 7.45 p. m. in the first semi-final game of the 14th annual tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Red-hot Seton Hall and Brigham Young, champion of the Skyline Conference, tangle in the other game at 9.30. The winners clash Saturday for the championship.

Seton Hall, impressive conqueror of high-scoring Beloit and North Carolina State, is rated by rival coaches as the hottest team in the tournament at the moment.

However, St. John's, playing in the friendly confines of the Garden, remains the tournament favorite.

Dayton will provide the test for the No. 1 seeded entry. The Ohioans showed plenty of class and drive in eliminating Lawrence Tech, 77-71, and fourth-seeded Arizona, 74-68.

Meineke, a 6-foot-7 170-pounder who is also a tremendous rebounder and floor man, scored 30 points in the first game and 37 in the other. His 667-point total makes him high man of the meet.

At the same time, although zealously guarded, he committed only four personals fouls, two in each game. Against Arizona he got 21 free throws, converting 15 for the new tournament record.

Zawoluk, a rugged 6-foot-6 junior, is more prone to foul out in this two-man wrangle. Bob had four on him in the St. Bonaventure game, which St. John's yanked from the fire.

Coach Tom Blackburn of Dayton said: "St. John's impressed me as a great club, showing a lot of poise and fine coaching. We can take them only if Meineke can outdo Zawoluk.

Jackie McLeod, 20-year-old star with the New York Rangers in the National Hockey League, was the victim of polio as a youngster.

W. Va. Cage Finals Begin

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 15 (AP)—Seven out-of-town quintets joined Morgantown here today for a state Class A cage tournament in which there is no clear-cut favorite.

Tall Grafton (17-6) and Beckley (18-6) entries met in the first of four opening-round contests in the West Virginia University Field House at 1.30 p. m.

Warwood (16-8) faced Clarksburg Victory (14-9) in the other afternoon, upper-bracket scrap. Tonight's card sends Huntington Central (17-7) against Charleston (19-5) and Mullens against Morgantown.

The semi-finals are set for tomorrow night and the title clash Saturday at 2 p. m. Scheduled for 2 p. m. Friday is the state Class B title game between unbeaten Greenbank (27-0) and Fairview (23-3), winners of Area tournaments last week end.

Huntington, four times a winner; Charleston, with three titles, Clarksburg Victory, successful in 1933 and 1941, and Beckley, holder of the 1946 crown, are the former champions in the Class A field.

Grafton has reached the final game twice, bowing to Charleston, 22-13, in 1924 and Wheeling, 68-41, in 1938. Morgantown, a finalist for the first time since 1945; Warwood, in the meet here for the second time in seven years, and Mullens never have reached the championship contest.

None of the seven out-of-town squads chose to come here before today and at least one—Charleston, which has not been in the winners' circle since 1924—also passed up a final workout in bedding down at Fairmont.

As the opening tip-off neared, Beckley remained more or less a definite favorite in the upper bracket. But there any general agreement among sports writers and fans ended.

The lower bracket shaped up as the strongest sort of a 'take-your-pick' proposition. And there was no indication that the eventual finalist there would be much more than an even choice in the pay-off tussle Saturday.

New Welter King To Face Gavilan May 4

CHICAGO, March 15 (AP)—The NBA's brand new welterweight champion, Cinderella Kid Johnny Bratton, has a tentative May 4 date to defend his title against Cuba's Kid Gavilan at New York's Madison Square Garden.

But it will be a long time before clout-and-cruise Bratton forgets the bloody 15-round battle with game-to-the-core Charlie Fusari which gave him Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated crown at Chicago Stadium last night.

A sparse stadium crowd of 6,954 and millions who viewed it on television saw Bratton gain a split decision over Fusari.

The fight appeared finished when Bratton, a cute clipper who fights in spurts, whistled a right that knocked Fusari flat on his back in the 10th round. But Fusari rolled over, clutched onto the referee's shirt and hauled himself to his feet at the count of nine.

The gross gate was $42,021.90. The crowd was held down by rain and snow—as well as television. Of the net take of $32,324.52, Bratton and Fusari each collected 27½ per cent, or $8,899, plus $1,500 television fee.

Although Bratton ran out of gas after flooring Fusari in the fourth round for a four count and almost ending the fight in the 10th, it was a great night for the 23-year-old Chicago Negro.

Twice previously, in the same ring, Bratton had his jaw broken—by Beau Jack and Ike Williams—and until late last year appeared headed for boxing's limbo.

Fusari paid dearly for five months of idleness. It was his first bout since he had stopped Tony Pellone at the Chicago Stadium last October. His timing was bad, and although he had Bratton in trouble frequently, he never could get a left-right combination going.

But on gameness the 25-year-old Irvington (N. J.) fighter was the champion of the evening. It was sheer courage and grit that enabled him to carry the fight to Bratton in the closing rounds.

Both men weighed 146¼ pounds.

Although the sponsoring International Boxing Club must await the outcome of the Gavilan-Gene Hairston fight at New York, March 30, before setting the Gavilan-Bratton date, it was learned reliably the title affair will be held at Madison Square Garden on May 4.

Ex-Bengal Star Named Adrian Baseball Mentor

Gregg Arbaugh, former Wellsville High and Adrian (Mich.) College baseball and basketball standout, has been appointed coach of the diamond forces at Adrian.

The appointment of the ex-Bengal star was announced today by John Darnton, Adrian athletic director.

GREGG ARBAUGH
Gets college baseball post.

Arbaugh is celebrating his first year in the coaching ranks after graduation from Adrian last June. The amiable mentor assisted Coach Darnton with the basketball chores last season after starring in that sport four previous years.

His athletic background dates back to Wellsville, where he won widespread recognition in football, basketball and baseball.

Upon graduation in 1944, he served two years in the Navy. In the fall of 1946, he enrolled at Adrian College and while there, built himself into an outstanding sportsman both on and off the field. Basketball served as his speciality, winning All-Conference laurels in three successive years. He also played a major role in the baseball circuit, taking batting honors on the team for two years. In his senior year, he directed the intramural program and represented Adrian College at the Conference Board of Directors annual meeting.

Arbaugh received his B.S. degree in Physical Education last June. Aside from his coaching duties, the ambitious mentor is working part time for his Masters Degree at the University of Michigan.

The biggest problem that faces the new tutor this season will be in molding a complete new infield that was broken up last June as a result of graduations.

Feller Faces Chisox Today; Lemon Checks Bucs, Homers

PASADENA, Cal., March 15 (AP)—Bob Feller, the No. 2 Bob in terms of money on Cleveland's roster, will try to show Manager Al Lopez today that he's worth his fancy salary, too.

The Indians' No. 1 Bob—Bob Lemon—put on a pretty good show for Lopez his first time out yesterday. Against the Pittsburgh Pirates, he hit a two-run homer to make up for the two runs he allowed in four innings.

Feller, who, like Lemon, makes around $50,000, pitches his first game of the season this afternoon against the Chicago White Sox.

Turning in the best pitching performance by an Indian regular, Lemon held the Pirates scoreless for the first three innings. His only serious mistake was allowing Ralph Kiner a 400-foot triple that scored both runs.

Cleveland, with Lemon's father and mother in the audience of 1,764, won, 10-6, ending a three game losing streak. Mike Garcia followed Lemon, permitting four runs on six hits and not allowing a base on balls.

The Indians got to Rookie Paul Pettit in the fourth, driving in five runs, then scored three more in the sixth off Vernon Law and single runs in the eighth and ninth from Mel Queen.

Reds Held To 4 Hits, Lose To Dodgers, 3-2

MIAMI, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Manager Luke Sewell hasn't started chewing his fingernails yet in desperation but it may come soon—the Cincinnati Reds' batting punch is getting weaker by the game.

Joe Hatten and Carl Erskine held the Rhinelanders to four hits last night as the Brooklyn Dodgers licked the Reds, 3-2.

That was the latest phase in the decline of the Cincinnati attack. The Rhinelanders got 12 hits when they won their opening spring training exhibition game last Saturday. They dropped to eight hits Sunday. They skidded to five hits Tuesday and then hit the low of four safe blows last night.

It was two of the big boys in the Cincinnati lineup who let the Reds down last night just when they had a chance to get out in front. Trailing by 3-0, Cincinnati got two runs in the fifth frame and Hatten's wildness then helped them fill the bases with only one out.

Neither Ted Kluszewski nor Johnny Pramesa could get the ball out of the infield, however, and that was the last Cincinnati chance.

Kiner On First Base

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 15 (AP)—Will the fans see home run king Ralph Kiner playing first base instead of left field this year?

The Pittsburgh Pirates tried him out at first yesterday in an exhibition game against the Cleveland Indians. He didn't do so badly. He handled nine chances without an error.

Ralph has feared playing first might interfere with his batting.

In three trips yesterday he got one hit, a triple that drove in two runs.

E.L.H.S. Girls Finish In Volleyball Deadlock

The Yanettes and the Whites of East Liverpool High finished in a deadlock for first place in the High School Girls Volleyball League race which ended Wednesday at the "Y".

They will meet in a best-of-three games March 28, with the champion then facing an all-star team. In another match, the Grade School League winner, Garfield, will meet an all-star team.

5 'B' Games Set; 'A' Teams Play Friday

COLUMBUS, O., March 15 (AP)—Ohio's high school regional basketball tournaments, last stop in the long trail to the state championship, gets underway tonight.

Five games in Class B, involving survivors of some 900 starters, are on the schedule.

All three undefeated clubs in the huge contingent will see action. The evening schedule calls for:

At Toledo: Grand Rapids (25-2) vs. Deshler (27-0), and Fort Recovery (23-0) vs Leesville (25-2).

At Kent: Waynesburg (24-0) vs Sebring (19-3), and Orange (19-6) vs. Walnut Creek (25-1).

At Athens: Corning (26-1) vs. Ironton St. Joseph (22-4).

The victors will go into Saturday's finals, to play for a berth in the state championship finals at Columbus, March 29, 30 and 31.

The remainder of the field, made up of 16 Class A clubs and six Class B teams, will clash Friday to clear the decks for Saturday's regional finals.

Headlining Friday's slate is the contest between Springfield's defending Class A champs and Dayton Stivers at Troy. Stivers, winner of four state championships—the most boasted by any school—has a 15-5 record, while the crown-wearing Wildcats have won 18 and lost five.

All the Class A teams will play semi-finals Friday, along with three contests in Class B. All finals are scheduled Saturday, trimming each field down to four for the final dash to the championships.

Oddly enough, the three unbeaten teams in tonight's Class B affairs are not favored too heavily. No one would consider it too much of an upset should all suffer their first defeats and drop out of the running.

Wellsville All-Stars Face 2nd Tourney Foe

The Eastern Ohio All-Stars of Wellsville will make their second start in the 24th annual All-Ohio Basketball Tournament at Sebring tonight at 6.30 when they face the Canton Collegians.

They won their first game Tuesday over the Cardinal Plumbers of Sebring, 45-27. Their opponents defeated the Warriors of East Liverpool Tuesday.

Dressen Gloats On Strong Pitching Staff; Says Dodgers Team To Beat

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla.—The flu bug Charley Dressen picked up at Vero Beach may have left him a bit weak but he is very strong on his Brooklyn Dodgers.

By a strange coincidence, Chuck is picking up right where Barney Shotton started his conditioning program last season. It was just a year ago that Shotton, too, had influenza. However, everybody in camp feels that any resemblance between Shotton's team and Dressen's gang will end right there.

"I think we are the team to beat in the National League race," says Dressen. "Brooklyn pitching has always been a question mark but in Preacher Roe and Don Newcombe we have two aces. The rest of the staff is a sort of question mark but I am confident I have two more aces in Carl Erskine and Ralph Branca.

"I know both Erskine and Branca are better pitchers than the 1950 record shows."

Erskine completed only three games last year for a 7-6 record but in 1949 the 24-year-old right hander from Anderson, Ind., turned in an 8-1 mark after taking 10 decisions at Fort Worth.

Branca failed as a starter in 1950 but only because he was juggled around and he did pitch fine relief ball. He finished five of 15 starts for a 7-9 record. Dressen, however, likes to recall 1947 when Branca won 21 games and had a 2.67 earned run average. Branca is only 25 and has his heart set on starting. It looks like the brunt of relief work will fall to Clem Labine, 24-year-old Lincoln, R.I., six-footer who comes from St. Paul with an 11-7 mark. He appears to have overcome his wildness, a mania well known around Ebbetts Field.

Dressen believes the Giants and Braves will be the teams to beat, with more emphasis on the Giants.

"The Giants will be tough with that pitching they showed," says Dressen. "And their hitting is bound to get better.

Dressen, when he piloted Oakland to the Pacific Coast League flag last year, saw Wilson win some of his 24 games at Seattle and watched Surkont, an 18-game winner at Sacramento. He is impressed with both right handers. He also thinks Luis Marquez, 25-year-old Puerto Rican outfielder drafted from Portland, might help Billy Southworth's team.

"Marquez can run and field," says Chuck. "But he may not hit much in the majors. Of course, the Braves attack is centered around Bob Elliott and Sid Gordon and there's no telling what kind of a season they'll have. Both no longer are youngsters, you know."

Dressen believes the Phillies' big job will be replacing the 17 victories turned in by southpaw Curt Simmons, now in the Army.

HOW MANAGER DRESSEN SEES HIS DODGERS

Pitching—Two Aces, Rest?
Catching—Tops
Infield—Best
Outfield—One of Best
Hitting—Plenty of Power
Finish—Team to Beat

No Loose Thinking Please

ED AND PEGEEN Fitzgerald married folk who breakfast together in front of a microphone and twitter gently about a vast range of consumer products were engaged in this delightfully remunerative pastime the other day when they unconsciously summed up the spirit of so much of talk on the air

Said Ed You're not answering questions this morning '

Said Pegeen 'No darling I was just thinking"

Said Ed Oh but this is no time to think We gotta keep going"

He's quite right, of course Man shouldn't go around doing a lot of deep thinking in the presence of a live mike The thoughts might be carried far and wide unsettling the citizenry That would never do especially at breakfast, when a fellow is trying to digest the comic strips A good many recent examples of pure unthinking radio dialogue have been perpetrated recently My own favorite is a spot announcement which goes

Hi fellas Is your radio working' If it isn't, call your favorite radio repairman or you won't be able to hear my program tonight '

As a matter of fact, my radio wasn't working at the time, but I got the message all right on the braces of my teeth which bring in everything but the most distant FM stations

THEN THERE was a small startling exchange between Mrs Sherman Hoyt the extraordinarily refined lady who helps out with the announcing of the Westminster Kennel Club show at Madison Square Garden, and the regular professional announced Win Elliot

Mrs Hoyt "Well you know it's the old socialistic spirit of this country Any dog can win

Mr Elliot 'Yes that's the American tradition all right"

It may be the American tradition, this socialism, but is it the tradition of dogdom especially Westminster Kennel Club dogdom, a snooty bunch? Around Westminster circles breeding is everything The caste system is more firmly imbedded than on the North Shore of Long Island and the pooches look down their noses at the Fair Deal with even more disdain than a Republican because they have more nose to look down

In the matter of utterances on the air there are moments when a person forgets not to think and blurts out something for which he is later very sorry

Not long ago Florence Pritchett on Leave It To The Girls unburdened herself, to wit When a girl looks in the closet it's not what dress shall I wear but how much skin shall I show and who is going to be there to look at it"

Remarks like that in which there resides a germ of truth are likely to be construed rather than, as is the custom, misconstrued People will get to thinking about the vast contribution ordinary skin has made to the development of electronics and thoughts like that better not get abroad That way lies revolution

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of utterances, I'd like to glance briefly over one of the most celebrated of all time, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address which was delivered recently on the Ed Sullivan program by, of all people, Judith Anderson

There is no more surcharged actress around than Miss Anderson and she gave it her all Still, the Gettysburg Address was generally considered man's work and it just goes to show how far the girls have taken over television and as it were feminized it I shouldn't be at all surprised any day now to hear Miss Faye Emerson, tights and all declaiming Hamlet's 'To be or not to be' soliloquy

Well just one more then—this an offstage job A TV director had instructed the cast on what each actor was intended to portray his emotional attitude and one thing and another, when the sound effects man asked what he was supposed to do

'You just have to roar like a tiger he was told

'Roar like a tiger?' said the sound effects man 'Yes but what is the tiger thinking?"

A thorough craftsman, that sound effects man Ibsen would have heartily approved

Marion Bell Captivates

Pleasing Soprano Ends Season's Music Concerts

BY BETTY WEIR

The Civic Music Association's concert season came to an end on a 'high note so to speak when Marion Bell captivating soprano gave a well-enjoyed performance Wednesday night in the Ceramic Theater Her excellent accompanist Richard Hughes shared in the laurels Her recital was the third in the 1950-51 series

She was equally at home as the adolescent lovesick page Cherubino, in arias from The Marriage of Figaro (Mozart) as she was in Violetta in the first act of Verdi's opera La Traviata

As Cherubino, she sang Voi Che Sapete' (What Is This Feeling') a remarkable delineation of the vague emotion of early youth, and Non So Piu Cosa Son' (I Know Not What I Am Doing), in which he described his feelings for the Countess

Also among her early numbers were 'Ah! Non Credea Mirarti' from La Sonnambula' (Bellini) and several compositions of the Norwegian composer Edward Grieg — Solvejg's Song Im Kahn , Ein Schwan and Ein Traum

Following intermission she sang a composition by her accompanist, Because I Love the Singing' As her second number in this group she gave 'One Fine Day from 'Madame Butterfly (Puccini)

Claude Debussy's La Flute de Pan' and La Chevelure' followed and she concluded that group with Chere Nuit (Beloved Nuit) by Alfred Bachelet and—by request—the well-known aria from the first act of La Traviata', "Ah, fore e lui Sempre Libera ' As an encore she gave the tuneful If I Loved You from the musical hit Carousel

At Midnight (Hearn) was chosen by Miss Bell to begin her fifth and final group which included Mountains (Rasbach) Marks Levine's beloved Do You Remember ' and Love Is Where You Find It written for the singer by Nacio Herb Brown She gave this number a fine interpretation

Her final encores were two general favorites Indian Love Call from Rose Marie and The Lord's Prayer (Mellott) plus the touching Waitin for My Dearie from Brigadoon in which she starred

Mr Hughes selections were grouped under the general heading of Three Period Pieces — modern Victorian and a rondo

It was difficult to think in separate terms of the singer and accompanist because of their exceptionally fine teamwork

Federal Aid's Name Figures Again In 'Influence Peddling'

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Senator Nixon (R) of California declared today a federal employee described as President Truman's very good friend apparently "used his White House entree" to push a bid for a government loan

Mr Nixon said he will continue to insist that a Senate committee investigating "influence peddling" get to the bottom of the matter. The government worker's boss promised help

The committee, meanwhile, took behind closed doors for a few days its inquiry into the activities of "5 per centers" who trade on influence in the defense contract field Senator Hoey (D) of North Carolina, the chairman, said the committee staff needs time to study "several tips and leads regarding such activities

The 5 per center term has come to be applied to influence men who charge a fee, often 5 per cent, for help in getting government contracts for others.

The federal employee to whom Mr. Nixon referred is Joseph Major, who works for the General Services Administration. That is one of the government's biggest purchasing agencies.

Mr Major's name first popped up two years ago during a similar Investigation by the Hoey committee He was reprimanded sharply by the committee then for steering prospective surplus property customers to a 5 per center while he (Major) was employed by the War Assets Administration, forerunner of the G.S.A.

Mr Major testified at the time that he served briefly during World War I in Mr Truman's old artillery outfit He said that ever since 1918 he had been a close friend of Major General Harry H Vaughan, the President's Army aide

General Vaughan also was rebuked by the Hoey committee in 1949 for accepting as gifts seven home freezers which he passed on to Mrs. Truman and other Washington notables.

Earlier this month the name Joseph Major cropped up again—during a Senate banking subcommittee's investigation of political influence in the Reconstruction Finance Corp He was identified as a G.S.A employee.

The diary of R F C. Director Walter Dunham, produced at the banking group's hearing, said that on Nov 4, 1949, White House aid Donald Dawson called Mr. Dunham "and made an appointment for Mr. Dunham to see a Mr Joseph Major, who is a very good friend of the President and Mr. Dawson, interested in applications submitted by the Community Hotel Corp".

Mr Dunham told the banking subcommittee there was no Indication Mr. Major was interested financially in the application, He said he assumed Mr. Major's interest was on behalf of some friend What happened to the loan bid was not brought out

Senate Clears Decks For Hot Troop Debate

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The Senate cleared its decks today for debate on a resolution backing the administration's plan to send four additional U.S. divisions to western Europe.

It promises to be long and heated.

In sending the Senate resolution to the floor, the foreign relations and armed services committees, acting jointly, also approved a virtually identical resolution which would require the approval of both houses of Congress

That move and others engineered by a coalition within the joint committee fall far short of pleasing the administration, which has contended the President alone has power to order troops to Europe without advance congressional approval.

Income Tax Roots Go Far Back

From 'Soak The Rich' To Plain 'Soak'

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 15—This is the day millions of Americans swear: "Never again." Never again, they say, will they put off making out their income tax returns until the last day

But they will Every year, the income tax people say, millions don't get the dismal chore done until the last minute

It would be worse if it weren't for the fact that so many are entitled to tax refunds

"I don't know why," said the income tax man coyly, "but people who have money coming to them usually get their returns in early."

Although the income tax has grown into its present size only fairly recently, its roots go far back.

In 1692, England had a tax on farm land income But not until 1799 did William Pitt put through an outright income tax.

When the proposal came up for a graduated income tax in England, such as we have here now, it met with considerable criticism. Under a graduated tax, those with higher incomes not only pay more taxes, but they also pay at a higher rate.

The U. S had its first national income tax during the Civil War. Its biggest year was 1866, when 460,170 persons paid $73,000,000.

Compare that with 1950 collections. Some 50,000,000 made out returns and paid $17,937,000,000. Corporations chipped in another $9,937,000,000. We have advanced—receded (take your pick) a long way.

STATES HAVE HAD income tax levies since 1789. Massachusetts, South Carolina, Pennsylvania and Virginia had income taxes before the Civil War.

But it remained for prohibition to put most states into the income tax business. They made up in income taxes what they lost in liquor revenue

The national income tax died after the Civil War, but it had a revival in 1894

When it was passed, as part of a tariff bill, Representative David Albaugh De Armond (D) of Missouri purred:

"The passage of the bill will mark the dawn of a brighter day, with more of sunshine, more of the songs of birds, more of that sweetest music, the laughter of children well fed, well clothed, well housed.

"Can we doubt that in the brighter, happier days to come, good, even-handed, wholesome democracy shall be triumphant?"

The birds didn't sing for everybody, though. Mark Sullivan says in Our Times — from which I'm getting most of this information—that Senator John Sherman (R) of Ohio said:

"This attempt to array the rich against the poor . . . is socialism, communism, devilism."

Joseph H. Choate, a prominent lawyer, sniffed that it was nothing but a "Communistic march". The Supreme Court finally ruled the graduated income tax unconstitutional, 5 votes to 4.

THE NEW YORK World called this "the triumph of selfishness over patriotism". But the New York Tribune happily cried: "Thanks to the court, our government is not to be dragged into Communistic warfare against rights of property"

The Republicans, as the party of the outs, naturally blame the ins for everything. Listening to the arguments, one gets the idea the Democrats invented taxes.

But it was a Republican president, William Howard Taft, who asked for a constitutional amendment so that we could have a graduated income tax. He got it, too.

It became official when Wyoming ratified the amendment Feb. 3, 1913.

At that time it was considered a soak-the-rich measure, of academic interest to the laborer.

The feeling was summed up by a humorist, George Fitch, who said:

"It will be an exclusive circle, this income tax class—one which the ordinary wage-earning class cannot hope to enter."

Humorist Fitch probably never guessed it, but in view of developments it turns out he never wrote a funnier line.

First Aerial Refueling Of Jet Bomber Bared

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The first successful aerial refueling of an American jet bomber was announced today by the Boeing Airplane Co.

The announcement, approved by the Air Force, disclosed that refueling tests on the B-47 have been conducted and found "satisfactory". The B-47 is this country's fastest jet bomber, an A-bomb carrier which holds a cross-country speed record of 607.8 miles an hour.

The combat reach of a plane is lengthened by refueling in flight

In the successful tests with the B-47, Boeing said it used a KO-97A stratofreighter as a tanker plane and fed the bomber through a telescoping metal pipe.

West 'No' Due On Reworded Red Proposals

Gromyko, However, Moves Nearer Its Position On Talks

PARIS, March 15 (AP)—Western delegates are expected to tell Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today why they cannot accept—at least without modification—newly-worded proposals he made yesterday for "Big Four" foreign ministers' talks.

Mr. Gromyko reworded two of the Soviet Union's original suggestions for an agenda and accepted the western wording for a third item concerning German unity and preparations for a German peace treaty.

The western powers are reported certain not to accept the reworded clauses, although Mr. Gromyko's latest offering seems to move a long way toward the West's position.

The deputy foreign ministers of Russia, the United States, Great Britain and France will meet again today in their 10th session to try to reach an agreement on an agenda.

Even assuming the deputies can agree on the wording of the various items, a battle seems to be shaping up on the order of discussion.

Mr Gromyko's position is that the deputies should agree first on the content of items and then talk about the order. He added that Russia will insist that demilitarization of Germany, under terms of the Potsdam agreement, must head the list

The western representatives take the position that the 1945 Potsdam agreement has been outdated by such events as the failure to unite Germany, the creation of a Soviet-sponsored police army in East Germany and intense military activity behind the iron curtain.

The West thus is equally insistent that the first thing to be talked about should be causes of international tension. German problems would necessarily occupy an important place in such a discussion.

One western source said Mr. Gromyko had really made no concession at all in his rephrasing of the original Soviet proposals. This source added that the Russians had only dropped points which should never have been advanced in the first place and had been offered only for bargaining purposes. The chief point discarded was the Russian demand for discussion of "remilitarization" of Germany.

U.S. Has Money To Burn, Though It's Deep In The Red

WASHINGTON March 15 (AP)—Although it is about 256 billion dollars in the red the treasury is burning about 31 million dollars daily

And it soon may have to start putting lead or other alloys into nickels and pennies

Secretary of the Treasury Charles Snyder told the House appropriations committee about it during hearings on the department's 1952 budget His testimony was published yesterday by the committee

Money in circulation is wearing out so rapidly Mr Snyder said, that the Bureau of Engraving and Printing must print about 35 million dollars worth of new currency every day The worn-out and tattered money is destroyed

"We burn up about 31 million dollars a day ' he explained

With the hard money—pennies nickels and dimes—it s a different story The demand for so-called minor coins is reaching a new peak From July through November of last year, Mr Snyder said the mint put into circulation about 900 million new coins almost double the amount delivered in the preceding 12 months

To keep up stocks, the mint went on an overtime basis and now there is a possibility there will be a shortage of nickel and copper

'Should the shortage of nickel and copper become so acute as to require substitution' Mr Snyder told the committee, the mint will of necessity, adopt substitute alloys

He didn t say what the substitute metal would be, but committee members said they would not be surprised to see a return to the white pennies of World War II days

The state Liquor Department and Liquor Control Board yesterday filed an emergency order that permits this Previously, they had ordered living quarters sealed off from barrooms

Descend On State Capitol

400 Teachers Press Bill For Minimum Salaries

COLUMBUS, March 15 (AP)—About 400 school teachers descended on the state capitol last night for the second hearing on their own minimum salary bill. Barred by House action from using the House chamber itself for the hearing, the House education committee took over the largest House hearing room and sweltered through testimony from 15 persons in support of the bill.

All sounded about the same note—teachers are leaving the public schools for better-paying positions in industry, Ohio has the wealth to pay salaries which will attract young people into the teaching profession

They were supporting a bill backed by the Ohio Education Association and brought before the legislature by the signatures of 189,000 Ohioans. The measure establishes minimum salaries ranging from $1,800 for teachers with two years training and no experience to $4,620 for instructors with masters' degrees and 16 years' experience.

Jacob C Clayman of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio CIO Council, told the committee Ohio could finance the minimum salary bill without new taxes Enough money could be obtained, he said, by plugging sales tax, corporation franchise tax and industrial property tax loopholes. The cost of the O E A bill is estimated at 37 million dollars for the first two years

The bill provides the state shall pay the difference between the total cost of the measure and the amount local school districts are able to meet.

No date was set by Chairman Esther Hardy (R) of Fremont for the next hearing on the bill

Sen. Arthur Blake (D) of Belmont County came up with a mild sensation in the Senate yesterday when he introduced a bill to knock the legal props from under the Lausche administration's liquor pearmit freeze.

Anyone, Mr. Blake's bill says, could get a liquor permit in 60 days provided he isn't a felon and so long as he has the money to pay for it The present legal provision for the issuance of permits on a population basis would go by the board if the Blake bill becomes law. It is on that provision that the Liquor Department's freeze is based.

Mr. Blake said his bill is designed to wipe out the present system of permit transfers. Purchase of an existing permit is the only way a newcomer can get into the liquor business under the permit freeze.

The Senate judiciary committee informally approved a bill to establish a single Municipal Court act for all the present 39 and nine new courts in Ohio. The committee plans to recommend the much-amended bill for Senate passage Monday night

Amendments to the bill provide nine new municipal courts at Euclid, Franklin (Warren county), Bellevue, Bellefontaine, Cambridge, Lancaster, New Philadelphia, Parma and Wooster.

An identical bill was offered in the House early in the legislative session. It appears, however, that the House judiciary committee is ready to accept the Senate version with few changes from its present amended form.

The Senate taxation committee approved a bill to tighten operation of the sales tax law. It is estimated it will yield an additional 20 million dollars a year.

The bill retains use of stamps. It does away with special agents of the state treasurer to sell them, however. It also cuts the commission paid vendors for handling the stamps from 3 to 2 per cent. It imposes the tax on private sales of used cars.

The committee rejected an attempt to reimpose the tax on sales between 13 and 40 cents It was estimated this would have brought the state another 10 million dollars a year.

Youngstown Blocked On Corporation Tax

YOUNGSTOWN, March 15 (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Harold B. Doyle has granted a temporary injunction forbidding the city of Youngstown from collecting a 1 per cent income tax on corporations

The judge also set $100,000 bond yesterday for the four firms fighting the tax. This would protect the city in case the levy is upheld.

The four corporations — the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., the Republic Steel Co, the U. S Steel Co and the General Fireproofing Co—contend the tax violates state and federal constitutions by discriminating against them The 1 per cent tax applies only to corporations. Individuals and others pay a 3-mill income tax.

Hearings on a permanent injunction were set for March 26

Final Tribute Paid Ballard In Jackson

JACKSON, O, March 15 (AP)—Paul I Ballard Ohio University business manager, was honored in death yesterday as both a college official and former state legislator.

Attorney General C William O'Neill, a former legislator, spoke at funeral services yesterday for the 56-year-old Ballard. Mr. Ballard was Jackson county representative for nearly 14 consecutive terms.

Mr. O'Neill said Mr. Ballard always had the interests of Jackson county at heart and once turned down an offer of a high state cabinet post because he felt he could not serve his county in that capacity.

John Baker, president of Ohio University, said:

"We are proud to have had Paul Ballard holding our second most important post. He served the university as well as he served Ohio"

Funeral services were at the Methodist Church here. Burial was in Fairmont Cemetery. Former Governor Thomas J Herbert and a number of state legislators attended.

County Scouts Collect 2 Tons Of Old Clothing

About 4,000 pounds of used clothing has been collected in the county Boy Scout program to aid overseas needy.

J. R. Stratton Jr., commissioner, said the Columbiana Council will attempt to complete the project by Easter.

He reported the quality and proportion of usable clothing has been good and that volunteers from the American Friends Service Committee estimated it will take several weeks to sort and pack the collections.

Clothing has been received from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester, West Point, Lisbon, Leetonia, East Palestine, Columbiana and Salem. Other county communities are expected to add to the total

Secret Service Hunts 'Full Story' In Truman Plot

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) - The Secret Service still hopes it will be able "to reveal the full story" behind the attempt to assassinate President Truman last Nov. 1.

That is what U E. Baughman, chief of the Secret Service, has told members of the House appropriations committee. His testimony in support of the 1952 budget for the Secret Service was made public yesterday by the committee.

A White House guard was killed and several others were wounded in the assassination attempt at Blair House temporary home of the President Oscar Collazo, a Puerto Rican, was convicted of murder last week for his part in the slaying and is awaiting execution

"As to the Blair House incident," Mr. Baughman told the committee, "we still are investigating scores of persons — members and friends of the Nationalist party of Puerto Rico We have developed some significant leads and it is hoped that definite results can be obtained in order to reveal the full story behind the attempt to assassinate the President."

Mr. Baughman said he feels that, with additional funds granted last year by Congress, "adequate physical protection is now provided' for the President and the vice-president.

West Virginia School Aid Hit

Wealthy Areas Gain, Superintendent Says

CHARLESTON W Va March 15 (AP)—State School Superintendent W W Trent yesterday described the legislature's plan for distributing state aid to schools as an inequitable measure

It takes from the poorer counties and gives it to the wealthier counties he charged

The Senate approved a $38-259 366 figure and the House recommended $38 733 369 The Senate version was approved after a conference committee had looked over the formula

Delegate Blankenship (D) of Wyoming County had recommended two amendments One would have upped the per capita expenditure for counties that are low in such spending from $2 40 to $5 and the other would have provided that no county receive less than it did in the previous year

They added $474,003 to the measure

In a comment on the conference committee's action Mr Blankenship principal of Pineville High School said "When you think of a budget of more than $38 000 00 that shortage of $474 003 isn't too much to be alarmed about"

Mr Trent said that some counties will not be able to maintain a nine-month term because the cost of virtually all supplies has increased

In order to do that he added they will have to find ways and means of eliminating some of their expenditures And he doesn't think that can be done

The superintendent expressed his approval of increases in teachers pay and a provision to allow for the election of school boards in primary elections

Ohio 10th Among 12 In Number Of Farms

COLUMBUS March 15 (AP) Ohio ranked 10th among the 12 Midwestern states in the number of farms in 1950 the federal Census Bureau reported today

The bureau said both the Midwest and Ohio had fewer farms in 1950 than five years before Some 199 303 Ohio farms were counted last year compared to 220 575 in 1945 There were 1-868 009 farms counted in the Midwest in 1950, compared to 1 985 790 in 1945

The bureau pointed out it has changed its methods of classifying farms

In 1950 a place of three acres or more was counted if agriculture products worth $150 or more were produced in 1949 exclusive of home gardens Smaller places were counted if the value of agriculture products sold amounted to $150 or more

Places of three or more acres were counted in 1945 if any agriculture products were produced in 1944 And smaller places were listed if agriculture products produced in 1944 were valued at $250 or more

Artificial Satellites

'Sky Platform' Project Still Interests Military

WASHINGTON March 15 (AP) The idea of creating artificial satellites to circle around the earth out in space is getting continued attention from the military An Air Force spokesman asked today if studies of the project first disclosed two years ago are continuing replied only "The Air Force is still interested"

He added that he could not discuss what if any progress has been made

A reference to the project went into testimony Monday at the New York trial of three persons charged with conspiring to spy for Russia

Former Army Sergeant David Greenglass himself a confessed spy and now a witness at the trial mentioned the satellite project He said he had been told one of the boys had passed to one of the defendants information on a sky platform This was explained as a satellite The information was obtained late in 1947 Mr Greenglass said

That was two years before a Defense Department annual report made a brief and curious mention of earth satellite studies in connection with guided missile research

Thus if Mr Greenglass testimony is accurate the United States appears to have been working on the theory for at least four years

What would be the military use of an artificial satellite shot into space as a rocket and held there by neutral gravity between the earth and the moon or some other body

Some military scientists speculate that at least initially the sky platform would not be a place from which to fire guided missiles at targets on the earth as it rotated beneath the satellite

Instead they suggest that it might be used for the control of long range transoceanic rockets There are several possibilities in this connection among them

►Using the comparatively nearby satellite as an artificial star for the robot navigational equipment of a rocket The trajectory of the rocket might take it more than two hundred miles above the earth to attain a horizontal range of several thousand miles Scientists already have started working on the project of equipping rockets with automatic star-reading instruments so that they can correct their course in flight Militarily the advantage of this is that an enemy cannot upset such steering control by "jamming" radar or radio impulses to the rocket

►Using the satellite either (a) to bounce radar controlling signals from the ground control point to the guided missiles after it has passed beyond the curve of the earth (radar impulses do not follow the earth's curve) or (b) as an automatic unmanned radar transmitter controller to take over guidance of the missile in the last stages of its flight

There has been nothing to indicate that the earth satellite program has progressed much beyond exploration of its feasibility

Aside from practical matters of cost one of the major obstacles has been lack of a power source sufficient to drive a missile clear of the earth's gravitational pull

However atomic power may be the answer A few weeks ago the Atomic Energy Commission and the Air Force announced that a program to build atom-powered planes had moved to actual drawing board designing

If atomic power can be applied to planes it presumably can be put into huge rockets.

Iron Age Recalls 1941

Growing Scrap Shortage Called Threat To Steel

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP) — A growing scrap shortage is threatening to strangle steel production, Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly says. "Electric furnace output already has been reduced and open hearth furnaces will be next—if the tempo of scrap shipments does not increase soon."

Recalling that in 1941 a shortage of scrap forced shutdowns of some open hearths, Iron Age commented:

"If it happens again, we would be in the ridiculous position of reducing operations of existing steel capacity, while millions of tons of new capacity are being built."

The trade weekly continued: "Industry and government are preparing to make a strong effort to get out more scrap. Most logical and fruitful sources appear to be old equipment in their own hands and overseas. Present thinking does not contemplate a national scrap drive at the household level, unless it becomes necessary for psychological reasons. Heavy scrap in the hands of industry and government is of much better quality than lighter material in household items. It is also more readily and cheaply processed."

Discussing the probable form of the controlled materials plan to be instituted in the steel industry by the National Production Authority, Iron Age said that an "open-end" type "could create one of the wildest procurement free-for-alls in history". It described the "open-end" plan as one under which the N P A. would decide how much material is needed for military and essential uses and the remainder would be left "free" for non-essential consumers to scramble for.

Election Deferred By Conservation Group

LISBON, March 15 (Special)—Columbiana Soil Conservation District members met Tuesday night but a scheduled election of supervisors was postponed. The annual meeting was held in the Methodist Church.

Only 40 members appeared because of the snowstorm, and the speaker, E. W. McMunn, did not arrive until 10 p. m. Mr. McMun, editor of the Ohio Farmer, showed slides on fertilizer use. Another meeting will be arranged for the election.

Carnival Set April 6 For West End Group

Plans were outlined for a carnival April 6 by the West End Home and School Association at its session Tuesday night.

Committee chairmen named include:

Variety show, Mrs. Richard Andrews; fish pond, Mrs. Lena Blythe; movies, Mrs. Adelene MacBurney; food sale, Mrs Nolan Westfall and Mrs. Kathleen Hillyard, and tickets, Mrs Nora Johnson.

Members of the book committee reported on the purchase of reference books for the school, and a nominating committee was appointed to choose a slate of officers for the coming year. It consists of Mrs. Westfall chairman, Mrs MacBurney and Mrs Norman Hall.

Films on problem children and new schools were screened.

Mrs. Thomas Briggs and Mrs Blythe headed the committee for Chandler, Willys-Knight, Cleveland, Wescott, Overland, Moon and Winton all were Ohio-made automobiles.
